

the African Slave Trade, and Abolition

edited by
Roger Anstey and P. E. H. Hair

Essays by Marion Johnson, W. E. Minchinton, David Richardson, D. P. Lamb, B. K. Drake, H. S. Klein and S. S. Engerman, Roger Anstey, Seymour Drescher, and F. E. Sanderson.

These essays represent an important sample of work being currently pursued to establish a soundly-based assessment of the Atlantic slave trade and abolition. Emphasis is placed on the way in which the historiography of the slave trade and abolition has reflected contemporary attitudes, and the availability and limitations of extant records upon which the definitive history of the subject must be written. The essays deal with the slave trade in the African economy, the volume, profitability and organisation of the trade (with specific essays on Liverpool and Bristol), and the movement for abolition. They will be of special interest to students of African and Black History, eighteenth and early-nineteenth century British Economic and Cultural History, and Local History.

To be published in November 1976 by the Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire as Occasional Series volume 2

Price until 1 September 1976 £6; and £8 thereafter. To: Mrs. E. Schofield, 272 Liverpool Road, Widnes, Cheshire WA8 7HT (cheques payable to Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire).

The Development of an AFRICAN WORKING CLASS

STUDIES IN CLASS FORMATION AND ACTION

Edited by Richard Sandbrook and Robin Cohen

This collection of papers from a number of African countries and written from various disciplinary perspectives, subjects the historical, political and social role of African workers to a fundamental reassessment.

It will be of great interest to historians, political scientists, sociologists and to all those interested in the study of industrial relations and trade union organisations. University students studying African politics and sociology will find the book invaluable.

THE WEST AFRICAN HERBARIA OF ISERT AND THONNING

F. N. Hepper (Kew Herbarium)

Between 1783 and 1803 the two Danes P. E. Isert and P. Thonning made important collections of plants in Ghana and Dahomey, which are now in Copenhagen, Paris, Berlin, Geneva, Florence, etc. This work by the editor of the revised Flora of West Tropical Africa not only accounts for each species with indexes to the IDC microfiches, but gives vernacular names, translated economic notes, and place-names with modern equivalents.

It is of interest therefore to geographers, linguists and historians.
