The Mission of the Church and the Propagation of the Faith

Edited by G. J. Cuming

The Ecclesiastical History Society has recently devoted two meetings to the topical theme of 'The Mission of the Church', and this sixth volume of Studies in Church History, the first to be published by the Cambridge University Press, contains eleven papers on widely varying aspects of the subject.

The theme of foreign missions is comprehensively examined, with papers on both the conversion of Europe, and the missions to Asia and Africa. A later development considered is the missionary situation facing the Church at home after the Industrial Revolution.

The volume concludes with a masterly survey of the literature of missionary history by Bishop Neill.
