The Devil behind the Mirror

Globalization and Politics in the Dominican Republic

STEVEN GREGORY

A compelling and intimate account... Grounded in ethnographic fieldwork conducted in the adjacent towns of Boca Chica and Andrés, Gregory's study deftly demonstrates how transnational flows of capital, culture, and people are mediated by contextually specific power relations, politics, and history.

Puritan Conquistadors Iberianizing the Atlantic, 1550-1700

JORGE CAÑIZARES-ESGUERRA

Award-winning author Cañizares-Esguerra demonstrates that a wider Pan-American perspective can upset the most cherished national narratives of the United States, for it maintains that the Puritan colonization of New England was as much a chivalric, crusading act of Reconquista (against the Devil) as was the Spanish conquest.

Nature, Empire, and Nation Explorations of the History of Science in the Iberian World

JORGE CAÑIZARES-ESGUERRA

“Pathbreaking and provocative throughout, Nature, Empire, and Nation represents revisionist history at its best. The eight essays assembled here focus new attention on a much-neglected area of research: the place of both Spain and Spanish America in the history of early modern science and scientific thought. Cañizares-Esguerra’s range of subjects is impressive—botany, cosmography, ecology, race, and more—but he addresses each in a lively, intelligent, and accessible manner. The book should be required reading for historians of science, as well as for anyone with interests in the intellectual and cultural history of the early modern Ibero-Atlantic world.”

Informal Institutions and Democracy

Lessons from Latin America

edited by Gretchen Helmke and Steven Levitsky

This volume analyzes the function of informal institutions in Latin America and how they support or weaken democratic governance. Drawing from a wide range of examples—including the Mexican dedazo, clientelism in Brazil, legislative “ghost coalitions” in Ecuador, and elite power-sharing in Chile—the contributors examine how informal rules shape the performance of state and democratic institutions, offering fresh and timely insights into contemporary problems of governability, “unrule of law,” and the absence of effective representation, participation, and accountability.

Climatic, Institutional, and Economic Change

Hallie Eakin

There is a growing preponderance of evidence that suggests that changes in the global environment are related to a simultaneous shift in global economic relations. Drawing on ethnographic research in three agricultural communities in rural Mexico, Hallie Eakin shows how these parallel processes of globalization and climatic change result in populations that are particularly vulnerable.

LATIN AMERICAN PERSPECTIVES

A Journal on Capitalism and Socialism

Managing Editor
Ronald H. Chilcote
University of California, Riverside

Join a forum for discussion and debate on the political economy of capitalism, imperialism, and socialism in the Americas. A theoretical and scholarly journal, Latin American Perspectives provides you with an in-depth look from participants and scholars throughout the Americas, with issues frequently focusing on a single problem, nation, or region.

LAP offers a vital multidisciplinary view of the powerful forces shaping the Americas, such as:

- Economics – and the study of the moral, political and social desirability of economic policies
- Political Science – and the patterns of social action that underlie the operation of nations, the competition for power, and the conduct and misconduct of governments
- International Relations – particularly as they affect the nationalist movements and internal problems of Latin American countries
- Philosophy – theoretical and applied to the hard realities of developing nations
- History – a critical view, with frequent inside views of history in the making
- Geography – the environmental condition, ecology, and exploitation of resources
- Sociology – organized groups, social institutions, and the new social movements, including feminism, ecology, and urban and rural labor
- Anthropology – the culture, ethnicity, and resistance of peoples of the region
- Literature – the personal poetic comments of activists and revolutionary scholars
