The Improper Use of Tax Treaties With Particular Reference to the Netherlands and the United States

by Stef van Weeghel, Stibbe Simont Monahan Duhot, Amsterdam, The Netherlands

This new reference work presents a detailed and comprehensive study of the improper use of tax treaties. The author provides a brief overview of both the occurrence and avoidance of double taxation and analyses the history, purpose and structure of tax treaties, with particular attention to the relation between the treaty subject and treaty object, and the concept of beneficial ownership. The concept of the improper use of tax treaties is explored, specifically in the context of the abuse of rights doctrine, the purpose of tax treaties, and the expectations and policy objectives of contracting states. Finally, the book deals with the phenomenon of treaty shopping, other perceived improper uses of tax treaties, and the efforts to combat this. The latter are categorised in interpretation and application of substance over form principles, and domestic legislation and treaty provisions, in particular limitation on benefit provisions.

International Law: Theory and Practice Essays in Honour of Eric Suy

edited by Karel C. Wellens

Professor Suy occupies a prominent place in international law, both as an academic lawyer as well as the former Under-Secretary-General and Legal Counsel of the United Nations. His activities as a teacher, scholar, UN Legal Counsel, key-note speaker on many occasions and as a legal advisor to Belgian and foreign governmental authorities naturally led to the sub-divisions of this volume, such as the law of international organizations, the law of the European Union, the law of armed conflict, and the peaceful settlement of disputes. The contributions, all by friends of Eric Suy, present the vast panorama of his intellectual pursuits.

AUTHORS' GUIDE

CONTENTS OF THE NILR

The NILR invites the submission of articles on legal questions, legal developments, commentaries, analysis and comprehensive overviews in the fields of public international law, private international law and comparative law. These articles must be original and may be of any length up to a maximum of around 35 printed pages each of approximately 450 words. Shorter articles and commentaries of between 5 and 10 printed pages are also published.

In addition, the NILR also publishes book reviews and reports of Dutch judicial decisions involving questions of private international law. These have a maximum length of 5 and 15 printed pages, respectively.

The NILR is an English-language publication.

SUBMISSION OF MATERIAL

Authors are requested to send three copies of each manuscript to the Secretariat: P.O.Box 30461, 2500 GL The Hague, The Netherlands. All submitted material should be in English and should be typed using a personal computer (preferably using WordPerfect). Material may be submitted at any time of the year and, if accepted for publication, will be published at the earliest available opportunity.

FEEES

Authors will not receive a fee, but will be presented with the issue of the NILR in which their contribution appears, together with 25 off-prints of their work in the case of articles and case reports and 5 off-prints in the case of book reviews. Additional off-prints may be supplied on request, upon payment of a standard fee.

COPYRIGHT

Copyright is exclusively vested in the NILR and the author(s) jointly. Acceptance of the Board of Editors' offer to publish implies, however, that authors agree to an embargo on publication elsewhere, either in English or another language, for a period of two years following the date of publication in the NILR.

The agreement of the Board of Editors will be necessary before the article can be subsequently published elsewhere.

EDITORIAL POLICY AND DISCRETION

The Board of Editors exclusively reserves the right to suggest modifications and/or additions to all materials accepted for publication, and further reserves the right at any time to reject or to withhold or postpone the publication of any material.

The decision of the Board of Editors will be final.

REVISION

All material accepted for publication may, at the discretion of the Managing Editor, be subjected to linguistic and grammatical revision. This will apply, in the main, to contributions written by authors whose mother-tongue is not English.

In all such cases the revised text will be sent to the author for his/her approval.

CORRECTION OF PROOFS AND MODIFICATIONS TO THE TEXT

Authors will receive galley proofs for correction. All accepted material will have been adapted and type-set in the NILR house-style. The NILR does not accept any significant departures from its house-style. Examples of the house-style are available upon request.

Authors may make any reasonable changes or additions to the original text upon the receipt of the galley proofs. Substantial modifications, however, may only be made in consultation with and with the consent of the Board of Editors.
