THE HAGUE – THE NETHERLANDS

European Business Organization Law Review

Editor-in-Chief: Prof. Dr. Talia Einhorn

E-mail: EBOR@asser.nl; URL: <http://www.asser.nl/ebor.htm>

Appearing under the auspices of the T.M.C. Asser Instituut, The Hague

Private law is the charter of a free society and business organizations are the key to their development: companies and groups of companies play a decisive role in the conduct of business in the modern, industrial and post-industrial European society. It is therefore their ability to organize according to their business needs, irrespective of national borders, that will ensure the economic success of the internal market. The establishment of the European Union presupposes the freedom of companies to “enter” and “exit” Member States’ markets, engage in business activities and offer the whole range of goods and services. For businesses originating both within and outside (especially in those countries about to join) the EU, this subject is of the utmost importance, meritorious of a dedicated, regularly published journal that serves as a platform for the necessary scholarly debate.

European Business Organization Law Review publishes articles, case-notes and book reviews, written by experts in the field critically analyzing national company laws, European Community company law and related legal topics.

GURUS?

Management Gurus and Management Fashions

Brad Jackson,
University of Victoria, New Zealand

'A fine example of striving to achieve a more fundamental understanding of consultants and clients.' – Chris Argyris, Harvard University, USA

'A fascinating in-depth analysis of the ways in which leading management gurus talk the talk that moves others to walk that talk.' – Karl Weick, University of Michigan, USA

'Indispensable reading for all students of management ... practitioners who sometimes ask themselves why gurus never live up to their promises, and why management fashions are so short-lived, will also gain a lot of insight.' – Professor Alfred Kieser, University of Mannheim, Germany

'A stunning book ... a page turner ... enlightening.' – Ernest Bormann

A lively examination of popular management thinkers, or gurus, and the performance improvement programs and management fashions that they frequently advocate.

Thinking About Management

A Reflective Practice Approach

Edited by David Golding and David Currie, both at University of Hull, UK

This book is an invitation to engage in an exploration of some of the more puzzling aspects of the processes which have come to be called 'management'. Emphasis is on the development of improved critical abilities in management practice.

Total Quality Management

EDITOR

Professor Gopal K. Kanji

Sheffield Hallam University, UK

Supported by an International Editorial Board

Total Quality Management is an international journal which sets out to stimulate thought and research in all aspects of total quality management and to provide a natural forum for discussion and dissemination of research results. The journal is designed to encourage interest in all matters relating to total quality management and is intended to appeal to both the academic and professional community working in this area.

Total quality management is the culture of an organization committed to customer satisfaction through continuous improvement. This culture varies both from one country to another and between different industries, but has certain essential principles which can be implemented to secure greater market share, increased profits and reduced costs.

The journal provides up-to-date research, consultancy work and case studies right across the broad field of quality culture, quality strategy, quality systems, tools and techniques of total quality management and its implementation in both the manufacturing and service sectors.

This journal is also available online.

Journal of Applied Statistics

EDITOR

Gopal K. Kanji, Sheffield Hallam University, UK

Supported by an International Editorial Board

Journal of Applied Statistics provides a forum for communication between both applied statisticians and users of applied statistical techniques across a wide range of disciplines. These areas include business, computing, economics, ecology, education, management, medicine, operational research and sociology, but papers from other areas are also considered. The editorial policy is to publish rigorous but clear and accessible papers on applied techniques. Purely theoretical papers are avoided but those on theoretical developments which clearly demonstrate significant applied potential are welcomed. Each journal issue aims for a balance of methodological innovation, thorough evaluation of existing techniques, case studies, speculative articles, book reviews and letters.

This journal is also available online.

Submissions: All papers should be submitted in triplicate. An abstract should be included on a separate page. We encourage authors to also send a copy of their manuscript in electronic form, either by e-mail or on a 3.5 inch floppy disk. Where possible, the file should be saved in the 'Word for Windows' format.

Presentation: Manuscripts should be double spaced throughout and single-sided. Please allow for generous margins and number all pages consecutively. The author should retain a copy, as submitted manuscripts cannot be returned. All papers should include a word count. Full names of the author(s) should be given, an address for correspondence, and where possible a contact telephone number, facsimile number, and e-mail address. Current and recent academic and professional affiliations should be supplied, together with a list of major publications (with dates and name of publisher) and forthcoming books.

Style: Please refer to the Business and Politics style guide, which can be found under "Instructions for authors" on the Business and Politics website (<http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/carfax/13695258.html>), for information regarding footnotes, references, and other matters of style. For questions not answered in the style guide, please refer to The Chicago Manual of Style, 14th ed, or contact the BAP editorial office.

Tables and figures: should be prepared on separate sheets using originals where possible; they should not be included within the text. The author(s) should indicate clearly in the margin of the paper where tables and figures are to be inserted. Each table and figure should be numbered consecutively in Arabic numerals with an appropriate caption (e.g. Table 1, Table 2; Figure 1, Figure 2, and so on). Permission to reproduce copyright material must be obtained by the author(s) prior to submission and any acknowledgements should be included either in the text or the caption as appropriate. A camera ready copy of any tables and figures should be submitted in addition to those attached to the manuscripts.

Proofs: Authors are expected to correct and return proofs of accepted articles within 48 hours of receipt.

Offprints: Authors are entitled to 50 free offprints of their article and a copy of the issue in which their article appears. Offprints may take 3-4 weeks to deliver after publication.

Copyright: It is a condition of publication that authors vest copyright in their articles, including abstracts, in Taylor & Francis Ltd. This enables us to ensure full copyright protection and to disseminate the article, and the journal, to the widest possible readership in print and electronic formats as appropriate. Authors may, of course, use the article elsewhere after publication providing that prior permission is obtained from Taylor & Francis Ltd. Authors are themselves responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce copyright material from other sources.
