New Series

Themes in International Urban History

Series editors: PETER CLARK and DAVID REEDER

A major new series which will examine, from an international perspective, key themes in the historic development of cities and societies. The volumes will emphasise early modern and modern developments with topics ranging across urban systems, structures and processes.

The City and Education in Four Nations

Edited by RONALD K. GOODENOW and WILLIAM E. MARSDEN

The first substantial study of urban education to take full comparative account of both historical and international contexts.

Mr Bligh's Bad Language

Passion, Power and Theatre on the Bounty

GREG DENING

What was life like aboard the Bounty? What terrible forces pushed the crew to mutiny? Was Bligh really the sadistic schizophrenic portrayed in modern films? This new book explodes the Bounty myth.

The Mansfield Manuscripts and the Growth of English Law in the Eighteenth Century

by James Oldham

In this two-volume work, Oldham presents important new biographical information about Lord Mansfield and brings to life the context, personalities, and operational features of the Court of King's Bench during the eighteenth century.

"There have been no previous editions of this kind of material, which sheds much new light on law and life in the earlier Georgian period. Professor Oldham's text will be indispensable for anyone working on English history in the mid-eighteenth century." — J. H. Baker

Judging New Wealth

Popular Publishing and Responses to Commerce in England, 1750–1800

JAMES RAVEN

This stimulating study of literature and the book trade in the second half of the 18th century challenges the notion that prejudice against the businessman was a late 19th-century phenomenon and examines the representation of the newly wealthy during a period of change and instability.

Atheism from the Reformation to the Enlightenment

Edited by MICHAEL HUNTER and DAVID WOOTTON

The rise of atheism and unbelief is a key feature in the development of the modern world yet it is a topic which has been little explored by historians. This book presents a series of studies of irreligious ideas in various parts of Europe during the two centuries following the Reformation.
