

DIME NOVELS

A new 35mm microfilm collection of 3,000 American Dime Novels, originally published between 1840 and 1900.

A fascinating reflection of American popular tastes, attitudes and social values in the nineteenth century.

To be published in seven units during 1980 and 1981

Complete Collection Price: US$5,290.00

Unit One now available:

508 titles on 17 reels of 35mm microfilm US$795.00

For further details, contact the Sales Development Manager at:

University
Microfilms International

30-32 Mortimer Street,
London W1N 7RA, England
Tel: 01-631 5030

Oxford University Press

---

The Growth of the American Republic

Samuel Eliot Morison, Henry Steele Commager, and William Leuchtenburg

This two-volume history of the United States from pre-Columbian times has been revised to provide a historical account of the period since the publication of the last edition in 1969. Volume Two now covers the major political, social, and economic events of the last decade, including the administrations of Nixon, Ford, and Carter; the Vietnam War; and Watergate. Seventh edition two volumes £11.25 each

The Alcoholic Republic: America 1790–1840

W. J. Rorabaugh

Between 1790 and 1840 Americans drank more alcoholic beverages per capita than before or since, and this book is the first examination of this phenomenon. The author sees the period as one of great anxiety, with many social changes, and his imaginative study in social history deals with the factors that produced the temperance movement in the 1840s that ended the 'binge'. Illustrated £9.50

At Odds

Women and the Family in America, 1776 to the Present
Carl N. Degler

'Carl Degler's At Odds is easily the most perceptive, the most thoughtful, the most balanced, and the most readable work that has ever been written on the evolution of the American family from the 18th to the 20th century.'
Lawrence Stone in the New York Times Book Review. £12.50

The Imperiled Union

Essays on the Background of Civil War
Kenneth M. Stampp

Most of the essays in this book are concerned with the events and conditions leading up to the American Civil War. One essay deals with the concept of union, two are concerned with historiographical controversies about slavery; three deal with the formation of the Republican Party and its role in the coming war. Another deals with the question whether the war was inevitable, and the final essay makes the case that the South did not have the will to win it. £9.75

Oxford University Press

---

The Slave Community

Plantation Life in the Antebellum South

John W. Blassingame

The Slave Community has established itself as one of the basic books on the institution of slavery in America. It presents a positive image of blacks under slavery, and of the way black culture and social institutions endured and adapted to slavery. This revised edition is based on extensive new research, and the book includes many new illustrations. Second edition paper covers £3.50

A Southern Renaissance

The Cultural Awakening of the American South, 1930–1955

Richard H. King

During the period 1930–55, a body of important fiction, poetry, memoirs, and historical writing emerged from the American South. This is a general assessment of that literature and its achievement. £9.75

Civilities and Civil Rights

Greensboro, North Carolina and the Black Struggle for Freedom

William H. Chafe

This is a model study of racial confrontation and accommodation during the civil rights revolution, and of the way Southern whites used 'civility' as a way of keeping black protest in check. Illustrated £8.50

You Gotta Deal with It

Black Family Relations in a Southern Community

Theodore R. Kennedy

This story of a black anthropologist's year of field work in a southern community reads like a novel, and shows that domestic anthropology is every bit as fraught with difficulty as that undertaken among faraway, primitive peoples. The author examines closely the make-up of four extended black families and their separate attitudes, which differ considerably in economic, domestic, professional, and other respects. Paper covers £3.75

The Journal of Latin American Studies

Edited by HAROLD BLAKEMORE

University of London

CLIFFORD T. SMITH

University of Liverpool

Sponsored by the Centres or Institutes of Latin American Studies at the Universities of Cambridge, Glasgow, Liverpool, London and Oxford.

The scope of the journal is the study of Latin America from the standpoint of the social sciences, including anthropology, archaeology, economics, geography, history, international relations, politics and sociology, etc., though it is not concerned with linguistic or literary studies. Contributions are invited from all parts of the world and, while editorial policy avoids commitment to any political viewpoint or ideology, free discussion of such issues in the Latin American context is welcomed. The journal publishes both articles and book reviews.

Contents of Volume 11. Part 2 November 1979

Julia Hirschberg: An Alternative to Encomienda: Puebla's Indios de Servicio, 1531-45

John C. Super: Partnership and Profit in the Early Andean Trade: The Experiences of Quito Merchants, 1580-1610

John Mayo: Before the Nitrate Era: British Commission Houses and the Chilean Economy, 1851-80

F.J. McLynn: The Argentine Presidential Election of 1868

Steven Topik: The Evolution of the Economic Role of the Brazilian State, 1889-1930

P.K. Menon: The Anglo-Guatemalan Territorial Dispute over the Colony of Belize (British Honduras)

Reviews

Book Notices

Volume 12: May and November 1980

£16.00 for institutions

£9.50 for individuals

Single parts: £9.00

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

PO Box 110, Cambridge CB2 3RL, England

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Handbook (1977), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.

Journal of American Studies

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Jonathan Edwards: The First Two Hundred YearsDANIEL B. SHEA                            | 181 |
| The Laws of War in the 1812 ConflictROBIN F. A. FABEL                                  | 199 |
| The Neo-Hegelian Tradition in AmericaDAVID WATSON                                      | 219 |
| Call Me Nigger!: Race and Speech in Faulkner'sLight in AugustRICHARD GODDEN | 235 |
| Review Essay  |     |
| The US Army and Global Politics, 1917 to 1927C. J. BARTLETT                            | 249 |
| Reviews   | 253 |
| Doctoral Theses on American Topics in Progress andCompleted at British Universities    | 343 |

© Cambridge University Press 1980

Cambridge University Press

The Pitt Building, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1RP
32 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022