

LETTERS

THE EDITOR:

I enjoyed Eugenio Barba's piece on Kathakali [T36] immensely. Will TDR be doing more Eastern stuff, or was this a unique shot from your locker?

Leslie Roll
Queens, N. Y.

TDR's Assistant Editor, A. J. Gunawardana (whose nominative credentials are obvious) is working on this, and we hope to have something more to offer soon—perhaps on Yakshagana (Indian folk theatre). —Ed.

THE EDITOR:

Nothing is happening out here in the way of theatre—even film (there's not one underground film theatre in the whole bay area). Of course, there's total theatre: Hell's Angels, the horny hippy types, the paranoid left-wingers, the fags, the dikes, the self-appointed priest of the religions of the East—a never-ending production. Artaud's (that cultural Elmer Gantry) dream come true. But after a while it becomes a drag. The setting is nice, but the production fails to come off.

A theatre in Philadelphia is going to put on a production of The Story Teller from Flea Street—they say. But of course you can't tell if they're nuts or not. That's the trouble with so many of these groups. And there's also a group that wants to put on The Story Teller off-off-Broadway this fall—they have no theatre and no name yet. I've written a few more playscripts out here. They need retyping. There's no use retyping them since after you retype them there's nothing you can do with them. I'd like to get to New York, now that summer's over, and try to get some productions going. I don't like the idea of going around to theatres like a salesman—you know, hey, Jim, here's what you ought to be staging, cool, solid, right, Jim. But if that's the way it's done, I guess I'll just have to. Yet I don't know of any gig I could get into in N.Y. . . . an expensive town to live in. I'm not romantic about the Lower Eastside—the Upper Eastside I may be romantic about, but somehow not the Lower Eastside. I've been asking out here if anyone knows of any jobs or something I could get fixed up

STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

BROCKPORT NEW YORK

degree programs in Theatre,
Performing Arts for Children,
Speech and Theatre

- NEW FULLY EQUIPPED THEATRE
- TOURING PROGRAM
- PROFESSIONAL CHILDREN'S THEATRE COMPANY
 - STUDENT DIRECTED LAB THEATRE
 - EXPERIMENTAL PROGRAMS
 - SUMMER THEATRE WORKSHOP

WRITE: Dr. Louis Meier, Chairman
Department of Theatre
State University College
Brockport, New York 14420

New York University/ School of Education

Division of English Education, Speech and Educational Theatre

offers

specialized study in educational theatre

new and extensive courses in creative dramatics and children's theatre

opportunities for graduate work in educational theatre research on all levels
—primary, secondary and college production work in adult and young people's theatre

B.S., A.M., Ed.D. and Ph.D. degrees in Educational Theatre

For information, write:

Marian Primont,
Head, Program in Educational Theatre
New York University
Washington Square
New York, N.Y. 10003

THE
DMZ
A POLITICAL CABARET
IS NOW AT
■ THE VILLAGE VANGUARD

LETTERS

with in N.Y. but as usual they don't know anything, except for some address on the Lower Eastside of some people who might put you up for a while. That doesn't help much if you're not romantic about the Lower Eastside.

*Dennis Jasudowicz
San Francisco*

Note: TDR published Mr. Jasudowicz's Slumming in T26. His collection of plays is entitled Flea Street (San Francisco: City Lights Books, 1965).

offering a constantly changed and updated program of satirical sketches, poems, songs, etcetera by such artists as

Eric Bentley, Albert Bermel, Wolf Biermann, Arnold Black, Jules Feiffer, Robert Hivnor, Joseph Kosma, Robert Lowell, Eve Merriam, Jacques Prevert, Richard Peaslee; all staged by Isaiah Sheffer

Nightly (except Monday) at 8:30,
■ The Village Vanguard,
Seventh Avenue near 11th Street;

Admission Sun-Thurs: $2; Fri-Sat: $3; Res: AL-5-4037

THE
JOURNAL
OF
GENERAL EDUCATION

JGE

FALL 1968

CRAFT AND INTENTION
IN JAMES AGEE'S
A DEATH IN THE FAMILY

JAMES J. SOSNOSKI

NON-WESTERN STUDIES
AND THE LIBERAL ARTS

ARTHUR N. GILBERT

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE
UNIVERSITY PRESS
UNIVERSITY PARK, PA., 16802

THE EDITOR:

Being the editor of a quarterly I know how easy it is to be eaten up. So I'd like to tell you that I get two copies of TDR and I only paid for one subscription.

I used to put out a country weekly in middle Georgia and not all of my readers loved me. One lady called me up to demand that her goddam subscription be stopped you lousy communist nigger-loving jew. We stopped it happily and three weeks later the lady called up to find out why she hadn't received her paper you goddam lousy communist papist. We sent her back her $2.06 and a subscription order blank to the National Review. The $2.06 check bounced.

TDR is about the best thing going in the theatre and aside from Reader's Digest Condensed Classics it is the only publication I reverently keep. Of course I don't read it but the pictures are pretty. The center-fold especially.

*Eugene Moore
Atlanta, Georgia*

MOVING?

Be sure to inform TDR!

Send name, old address, new address, and zip codes for both. Please allow us 30 days to change our records.