The Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies.

50, BEDFORD SQUARE, LONDON, W.C. 1

President: DR. H. IDRIS BELL, C.B., O.B.E., F.B.A.

THE subjects to promote the study of which the Society was formed are the history, archæology and art of Rome, Italy and the Roman Empire in general down to about 700 A.D. In particular, so far as its resources permit, and so far as is possible without prejudice to the wider objects with which it is concerned, the Society endeavours to encourage the study of Britain under Roman occupation by devoting space in its Journal to articles on Romano-British history and archæology.

In connexion with the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies the Society maintains a joint library of works on classical antiquity, and a collection of lantern-slides and photographs. Members are entitled to borrow books and slides, and these can be sent to them by post. Communications about books and slides should be addressed to the Librarian at 50 Bedford Square.

Afternoon meetings for the reading and discussion of papers are held normally at Burlington House, Piccadilly, W. 1, and one evening meeting is arranged for the discussion of a subject useful to teachers of Roman history. Numerous meetings are also held in University and other towns. Notices of all meetings are sent to members.

The Journal of Roman Studies, which is open to the contributions of both British and foreign scholars, is published by the Society normally in half-yearly parts, but during the war in one annual volume, and is sent post free to all members.

The Annual Subscription for membership of the Society is one guinea. The composition fee for life membership is ten guineas for persons over fifty years of age, and fifteen guineas for others. Student Associates are admitted at the reduced subscription of 10s. 6d.

Persons desirous of joining the Society are asked to communicate with the Secretary at the Haverfield Library, Ashmolean Museum, Oxford.

Contributions to the JOURNAL should be sent to Sir JOHN FORSDYKE, British Museum, London, W.C.1. Books intended for review should be addressed to The Librarian, Hellenic Society, 50 Bedford Sq., London, W.C.1.

Cloth cases for binding may be obtained from the Publishers of the JOURNAL, Messrs. MACMILLAN & Co., Ltd., price 3/6, and should be ordered through a bookseller.

All applications for advertising space in the JOURNAL should be addressed to The Advertisement Manager, Hellenic Society, 50 Bedford Square, London, W.C.1.

THE BRITISH ACADEMY

CROMER GREEK PRIZE

WITH the view of maintaining and encouraging the study of Greek, particularly among the young, in the national interest, the late Lord Cromer founded a Prize, to be administered by the British Academy, for the best Essay on any subject connected with the language, history, art, literature, or philosophy of Ancient Greece.

The Prize, which is ordinarily a sum of £40, is awarded annually in March, under the following Rules:—

1. Competition is open to all British subjects of either sex who will be under twenty-six years of age on 31 December preceding the award.

2. Any such persons desirous of competing must send in to the Secretary of the British Academy on or before 1 June of the year preceding the award the title of the subject proposed by him or her. The Academy may approve (with or without modification) or disapprove the subject; their decision will be intimated to the competitor as soon as possible.

3. Preference will be given, in approval of subjects proposed, to those which deal with aspects of the Greek genius and civilization of large and permanent significance over those which are of a minute or highly technical character.

4. Any Essay already published, or which has already received or is in competition for another prize of the same nature, will be inadmissible. A candidate to whom the Prize has been awarded will not be eligible to compete for it again. But an Essay which has not received the Prize may be submitted again (with or without alteration) in a future year so long as the writer remains eligible under Rule 1.

5. Essays of which the subject has been approved must be sent in to the Secretary of the Academy on or before 31 December. They must be typed (or, if the author prefers, printed), and should have a note attached stating the main sources of information used.

6. It is recommended that the Essays should not exceed 20,000 words, exclusive of notes. Notes should not run to an excessive length.

Communications should be addressed to 'The Secretary of the British Academy, Burlington House, Piccadilly, London, W.'

HIERONIMO GIUSTINIANI'S HISTORY OF CHIOS

Edited, with an Introduction by PHILIP ARGENTI

Mr Argenti discovered the Italian MS. of this work in Rome in the State Archives. The MS. was presumed to exist by certain indications to be found in the French version, but all traces of it had been lost.

THE STYLE OF SOPHOCLES

By F. R. EARP

All great poets can rise to the occasion, or they would not be great poets, but the unique quality of Sophocles is that he does not need a great occasion. He can say a simple thing in what seems simple language, and yet somehow contrive to take our breath away. The first object of the present author is to discover what can be known of the secret of this power. How far he has succeeded in his object may be judged by the report of a reader who writes: "It is not only the best study of the style of Sophocles that I have ever read, but it is also the best study of an author's style. He has done everything possible to avoid the danger of using statistics mechanically. . . . He reaches definite conclusions which will be of great value to all students of Greek drama."

GREECE

By KATHLEEN GIBBERD

No. 3 of the BRITISH SURVEY HANDBOOKS

This book provides an accurate background by showing the constant factors in the life of the Greeks, the traditions and ideas which are in their minds, and the known consequences of the enemy occupation from which they have suffered. Greek and British officials have been very willing to help with information and criticism, and the appendix is contributed by a British subject who has had long experience of work with the Greek Red Cross.
