THE SEMIOTICS OF THEATRE AND DRAMA

New Accents

For the semiotician, the theatre represents an ideal laboratory and a daunting embarrassment of riches which raise all the fundamental problems of semiotic analysis. This study, the first of its kind in English, traces the history of semiotic approaches to performance, from the Prague Structuralists' analyses of the theatrical sign in the 1930s to current theories of the code, text and discourse. It is an attempt to break effectively with the literary critical bias that has long dominated academic criticism of the drama.

JACOBAN CITY COMEDY

Second Edition

The first decade of the Jacobean age witnessed a sudden profusion of comedies satirizing city life; among these were comedies by Ben Jonson, John Marston and Thomas Middleton, as well as the bulk of the repertory of the newly established children's companies at Blackfriars and St Paul's. The playwrights self-consciously forged a new genre which attracted London audiences with its images of folly and vice in Court and City.

This second edition takes account of recent critical and scholarly work in the field and the author has added a new essay on Bartholomew Fair and a select bibliography.

THE REVELS HISTORY OF DRAMA IN ENGLISH

Volume II 1500–1576

This volume surveys the period of English drama which saw the transition from the medieval religious drama to the secular drama of Shakespeare and his contemporaries. The tudor 'interlude' covers a wide variety of dramatic context and form, and this volume examines that variety, relates the drama to its context of conflicts and social changes, and investigates the methods of dramatic presentation and the fortunes of the acting companies of men and boys.

Theatre Research International is the continuation of Theatre Research/Recherches Théâtrales. The change of title marks the assumption by Oxford University Press of responsibility for publication. The new title also indicates that the association with the International Federation for Theatre Research/Fédération Internationale pour la Recherche Théâtrale, which founded the journal, will remain. Bilingualism has not been entirely abandoned: contributions appear only in English, but articles are provided with résumés in French. The field continues to be the historical, critical and theoretical study and documentation of drama, conceived as the art of the theatre.

New readers might like to learn that the motif on our cover was designed by Josef Svoboda for Theatre Research/Recherches Théâtrales in 1966 and presented to the International Federation for Theatre Research/Fédération Internationale pour la Recherche Théâtrale.

Grateful acknowledgement of financial support is made to the Universities of Birmingham, Bristol, Glasgow, Lancaster, Liverpool, Manchester, Sussex, the University College of Swansea, and to the Toneelmuseum, Amsterdam
