

WINTER, 1984

Vol. 9, No. 2

$4.00

REGISTERED BY AUSTRALIA POST
PUBLICATION NO. VAW4651

IN THIS ISSUE:
Permanency Planning — A Redefinition
Group Home Care — An Inside View
Child Abuse — A Socio-Environmental Perspective
Attitudes & Awareness to Child Abuse
Federal / State Responsibility for Child Welfare Services

IN THIS ISSUE

EDITORIAL

2

Margarita Frederico

PERMANENCY PLANNING — a redefinition

3

A.N. Maluccio

The author explores permanency planning and develops the concept in the light of practice and research findings.

GROUP HOME CARE — an inside view

6

Lesley Oakley

The author analyses the difficulties inherent in family group home programmes and suggests ways the limitations of such programmes can be minimized.

CHILD ABUSE — a socio-environmental perspective

10

Ro Roberts

In this, the first of two articles, the author describes a socio-environmental model of the family and argues strongly for its adoption in place of the family pathological model in work with families

ATTITUDES & AWARENESS TO CHILD ABUSE

16

D. Shamley – S. Andrios – V. Athanasiou

In this article the authors report of research which sought to identify attitudes and awareness of a group of Greek families to child abuse.

FEDERAL/STATE RESPONSIBILITY FOR CHILD WELFARE SERVICES

26

Susan Griffin

The author reviews policies and priorities of Federal and State Governments in respect of child welfare and supports the creation of a Federal Ministry for Community Services.