

The Psychiatrist

FORMERLY THE PSYCHIATRIC BULLETIN

EDITORIAL

- 161 Futurology and mental health services: are we ready for the demographic transition?
Moirá Connolly

ORIGINAL PAPERS

- 165 Antipsychotics in people with dementia: frequency of use and rationale for prescribing in a UK mental health service
Monica Crugel, Gilly Paton, Pratima Singh, Regina Jeboda, Adrian Treloar
- 169 Perception of unmet needs and association with benzodiazepine misuse among patients on a methadone maintenance treatment programme
Tunde Apantaku-Olajide, Kevin Ducray, Patricia Byrne, Bobby P. Smyth

SPECIAL ARTICLES

- 175 Healthy brain ageing: the new concept of motivational reserve
Andreas Maercker, Simon Forstmeier
- 178 Motivational reserve: does it help our understanding of cognitive impairment? Commentary on . . . Healthy brain ageing
Bob Woods

- 180 Adult attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder and child protection: review of evidence and child safeguarding guidelines
James Jeffs, Sally Cubbin, Kiriakos Xenitidis

EDUCATION & TRAINING

- 186 Emergency department junior medical staff's knowledge, skills and confidence with psychiatric patients: a survey
Jacqueline Therese Gordon
- 189 A reflection on continuing professional development
Kieran O'Loughlin, Allys Guerandel, Kevin Malone

COLUMNS

- 194 Correspondence
- 198 Obituaries
Dr Denis Murphy
Professor Eadbhard O'Callaghan
Dr Mary Headley Welsh
- 200 Review
Overcoming Alcohol Misuse: A 28-Day Guide
- ibc e-interview
Kamran Ahmed

Cover image

Moirá Connolly (pp. 161–164) opens this issue by exploring how psychiatric services can respond successfully to the developing needs of our ageing population. Dr Connolly proposes a public health approach, and insists that we must become involved in effective planning now in order to feel and be prepared for the coming demographic transition.

Image © Guy Undrill 2012