

Votes, Vetoes, and the Political Economy of International Trade Agreements

Edward D. Mansfield & Helen V. Milner

“This fine book by two leading political scientists provides an insightful look at the domestic politics behind preferential trading arrangements. The book is a significant contribution to our understanding of these trade agreements, and economists and political scientists alike will benefit from reading it.”

—Douglas Irwin, Dartmouth College

Why Adjudicate?

Enforcing Trade Rules in the WTO

“Many scholars and professionals are focused on the question of the effectiveness of the WTO as a mechanism for resolution of trade disputes. This book offers particular insight into this question and also considers the implications for new entrants in the international trading system such as China. Why Adjudicate? is an extremely insightful volume and a pleasure to read.”

Reforming the European Union

Realizing the Impossible

Daniel Finke, Thomas König, Sven-Oliver Proksch & George Tsebelis

“Through theoretical and analytical interpretation of an extraordinary collection of original data, this book addresses the important and complicated process of treaty reform in the European Union. Novel and exemplary, it explores constitutional reform, the art of political manipulation, and the empirical study of bargaining. A major achievement.”

—Matthew Gabel, Washington University in St. Louis
