PART II. From 1752 to 1900

VOLUME II CHALMERS—FYTCHE

Compiled by J. A. VENN

Part I, embracing all recoverable names from the earliest times to 1751, appeared in four volumes between the years 1921 and 1927.

Part II will eventually consist of six volumes, containing 64,000 biographies in all, bringing the record down to the year 1900. Many difficulties with the sources for the earlier volumes have lessened for these later entries; more material is to hand, and therefore fuller biographies have been possible. £7. 10s. net, each volume

"So dawned the conception of something different from what was aimed at by the earlier histories of England—The History of the British Commonwealth.... Definitely it was with that conception consciously in his mind that he moulded every chapter. And it is that which differentiates his work from all the 'English Histories.'... Deserves to be welcomed, read, and assimilated, not only by professed students, but by the general public throughout the British Commonwealth."
The Observer

The Spirit of English History

'It has a quality of genius. It is the work of an Oxford historian who is also a poet and a student of contemporary affairs; and it lives from beginning to end. It is informed by a good understanding of the social facts and forces which have gone to determine the course of our history; it is also informed by a fine and subtle psychology, which penetrates into the recesses of our national make up and our national temper.'

A Survey of Six Centuries—Chaucer to Queen Victoria

ENGLISH SOCIAL HISTORY

G. M. Trevelyan, O.M.

“It is written with all Dr Trevelyan’s customary skill and fervid, passionate love of his country.... He devotes himself wholly to social history, and in so doing has produced what will probably be Everyman’s standard social history of England for a long time to come.” The Times Lit. Supp.

“This is a scrumptious book. It is a history which is enjoyable from start to finish, a beautifully balanced work from that so skilful hand.”

A. L. Rouse in The Observer

“Is delightful to read, for he has brought to his task his vast learning, his passionate and eloquent patriotism, his capacity for judicial survey of contentious problems, and his feeling for beauty and old custom.”

J. L. Hammond in The Manchester Guardian

COURTS AND CABINETS

G. P. Gooch, D.Litt.

This work contains studies of the memoirs of Mme de Motteville, La Grande Mademoiselle, Burnet, Saint-Simon, Wilhelmina of Prussia, Lord Hervey, Horace Walpole, Fanny Burney, Mme Campan, Mme de Remusat, Queen Hortense, Caulaincourt, and Mme Adam, whose testimony illuminates the history of Europe from Richelieu to Bismarck.

“Dr Gooch sums up immense masses of material with uncommon skill. His erudition enables him to gauge by other sources the trustworthiness of the writers he is discussing.”

The New Statesman

“It is a gentle introduction into history by one who knows it thoroughly, but tells it clearly and simply—in the original words of original writers on whom he has drawn.”
