Why I Have Not Written Any of My Books

(Pourquoi je n'ai
écrit aucun de mes livres)

MARCEL BÉNABOU

Translated by David Kornacker
Preface by Warren Motte

"Most of the time
one finds authors
who pretend to be writers but whose efforts prove the contrary. Marcel Bénabou is infinitely more subtle: in a hundred superb pages . . . he appears not only as an exceptional
verbal magician but also and above all
as a true artist."

The Most High

(Le Très-Haut)

MAURICE BLANCHOT

Translated with an introduction by Allan Stoekl

Written in part as a description of post-
World War II
Europe, Blanchot's
dystopia charts
with terrible clarity
the endless death
of god in an era of constantly meta-morphosing but strangely definitive ideologies. First published in 1948.

Free Rein

(La Clé des champs)

ANDRÉ BRETON

Translated by Michel Parmentier
and Jacqueline
d'Amboise

Free Rein, a gathering of seminal essays
by André Breton, displays his abiding faith in the early principles of surrealism, and the changing orientations of the surrealist movement within which he remained the leading force.
