CONSTITUTIONS OF THE BRITISH COLONIES

Information prepared by Sydney D. Bailey. Foreword by the Rt. Hon. James Griffiths, M.P., British Secretary of State for the Colonies. Crown 8vo., 56 pp.

Mr. Griffiths writes in the Foreword:

"I am glad to have this opportunity of paying tribute to this useful pamphlet. It has brought together for the first time a great deal of information which previously was not readily accessible either to the general public or to those who are concerned with the Colonies in their work or studies. A valuable contribution has been made to knowledge about the Colonial territories . . ."

"This is a very useful piece of work and will form a very handy book of reference both for the professional student and the practical administrator. . . . We know of no such complete and compact, comprehensive, clearly presented and readable data on the subject of Colonial constitutions as this booklet provides. It is an excellent little work of reference. . . . Can be thoroughly recommended."
—Journal of African Administration.

"A most useful pamphlet."—The Times Literary Supplement.

"Mr. Sydney D. Bailey . . . has rendered a very helpful service to all who are interested, whether as administrators or students or in any other capacity, in the progress of no fewer than sixty-three territories."—South African Outlook.

"A compact and useful guide. . . ."—Tribune.

"As a work of reference the pamphlet is very useful, and it is good to find the Hansard Society accepting as its responsibility publication of such information."—West Africa.

"Provides in compact form a brief description of the Constitutional structure of each of the British Colonies."—Colonial Review.

"This extremely useful pamphlet . . . as a booklet for quick reference it admirably fulfills its purpose."—United Empire.
