STIGMA AND CULTURE

Last-Place Anxiety in Black America

J. Lorand Matory

With a Foreword by Thomas P. Gibson

"Stigma and Culture is a sprawling, ambitious, interdisciplinary, analytically rigorous and courageously auto-ethnographic examination of the intellectual, institutional, and interpersonal implications of ethnic differentiation. It feels like a new scholarly genre."—John L. Jackson Jr., author of Impolite Conversations

PAPER $30.00

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY?

Human Rights in the New Global Economy

Edited by Charlotte Walker-Said and John D. Kelly

"This edited collection presents a much-needed interdisciplinary perspective on the accomplishments and weaknesses of corporate social responsibility, offering sound theoretical contributions and in-depth case studies."—Cynthia Williams, coeditor of The Embedded Firm

AFTER YEAR ZERO

Geographies of Collaboration

Edited by Annett Busch and Anselm Franke

This diverse collection of text- and image-based essays explores the many magazines, journals, and newspapers launched within Africa and from the African Diaspora after 1945. The result is an innovative study of postwar narrative possibilities and interventions against hegemonic voices.

AFRICAN STUDIES

AFRICA'S RETURN MIGRANTS

The New Developers?

Edited by Lisa Åkesson and Maria Eriksson Baaz

"This excellent book turns the spotlight on returnees in Africa, who—whether they are businessmen, development agents, or indeed children—have profound impacts on their home countries."—Richard Black, SOAS, University of London

SOUTH AFRICA'S INSURGENT CITIZENS

On Dissent and the Possibility of Politics

Julian Brown

"A timely and important analytical contribution to the growing scholarship on contemporary protest politics in South Africa. Brown both challenges existing analytical frameworks and offers innovative ways of thinking about protests."—Noor Nieftagodien, University of the Witwatersrand

PAPER $27.95

MAKING SENSE OF THE CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC

Edited by Tatiana Carayannis and Louisa Lombard

"This is the essential book on CAR. Carayannis and Lombard have assembled the scholars and analysts who know most about this important but under-researched country, and have produced the authoritative volume on its history, society, and politics."—Alex de Waal, author of Darfur

PAPER $28.95

WATER AND DEVELOPMENT

Good Governance after Neoliberalism

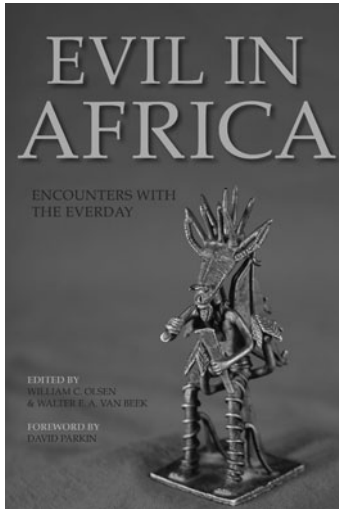

Edited by Ronaldo Munck, Narathius Asingwire,
Honor Fagan and Consolata Kabonesa

"An illustrative, inspiring, and innovative text that raises fundamental issues on the pertinent subject of water in a developing context. The book is comprehensive in tackling both hardware and software issues in relation to sustainable water development and access."—John Ddumba-Ssentamu, Makerere University

Aisha M. Beliso-De Jesús

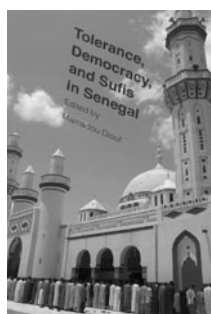

“A new ‘classic’ for religious studies and for African diaspora studies.”

—Inderpal Grewal, Yale University

“Ethnographically rich and theoretically audacious, Beliso-De Jesús’s Electric Santería breathes fresh air into the scholarship on Afro-Cuban ritual praxis.”

—Stephan Palmié, author of The Cooking of History: How Not to Study Afro-Cuban Religion

Industrial Policy and Economic Transformation in Africa

Edited by Akbar Noman and Joseph E. Stiglitz

“A refreshing and timely intervention in policy debates on the industrialization of African countries. The book is outstanding and should be read not only by those interested in Africa’s industrialization but also by readers from other parts of the world who have sought to bring industrial policy back into their own development thinking and endeavors.”
