

The Timber Economy of Puritan New England

Charles F. Carroll

This is the first major study of the English colonists' encounter with the New England forest. Historian Charles F. Carroll tells how the seventeenth-century settlers, coming from a land almost cleared of forests, adjusted to and eventually exploited the wilderness, creating a timber-based society and developing an Atlantic trade in forest products to sustain it.

ENTERPRISE AND NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

ESSAYS IN CANADIAN BUSINESS AND ECONOMIC HISTORY
Edited by GLENN PORTER AND ROBERT CUFF

These essays deal with a wide range of important topics in the interaction of business, government, and society in Canada. Their value is two-fold. As careful explorations of Canadian history, they provide important insights into the Canadian past. But the issues they treat are still with us, and these essays make important contributions to the continuing debate over such enduring issues as the mainsprings of national identity, the impact of foreign influence on the economy, the search for economic growth, and the optimum relationship between federal and provincial governments in shaping national development.

These essays appeared originally in Business History Review. Contributors: Glenn Porter, Christopher Armstrong, H. V. Nelles, Michael Bliss, T. W. Acheson, Stephen Scheinberg, Patricia E. Roy, Alan Wilson. 138 pp. $2.50/$6.95.
