

THE BEDFORD SHAKESPEARE SERIES

Series Editor: Jean E. Howard, Columbia University

Designed to give students firsthand knowledge of the cultural and historical contexts out of which Shakespeare's work emerges, The Bedford Shakespeare Series facilitates a variety of approaches to Shakespeare. Each volume provides an authoritative edition of a widely taught play accompanied by an intriguing collection of thematically arranged historical and cultural documents, lightly modernized. Each volume also includes a general introduction, glosses for the play, an introduction to each thematic unit, a headnote and annotations for each document, a bibliography, and a topical index.

The Renaissance

New books from Chicago

The Scarith of Scornello

A Tale of Renaissance Forgery

Ingrid D. Rowland

"The characters jump off the page through portraits incised with a skewer. . . . It is not easy to find scholars with the expertise adequate to examine the philosophical and social implications of literary forgery—and with an intact sense of humor and fun. Rowland is it in spades."

—Walter Stephens, author of Demon Lovers

Cloth $22.50

Dido's Daughters

Literacy, Gender, and Empire in Early Modern England and France

Margaret W. Ferguson

"A book of unique vision and breadth. . . . The sweeping, learned analysis in Dido's Daughters will provide an entirely new perspective on the complex dynamics among gender, literacy, and modernization."

—Mary Beth Rose, University of Illinois at Chicago

Paper $25.00

Love and Death in Renaissance Italy

Thomas V. Cohen

"Love and Death in Renaissance Italy offers sparkling tales of intimate life in sixteenth-century Rome. Cohen has given voice to the desire, anger, fears, and excuses of Romans as they testify before the governor's court, even while he reflects on and experiments with the historian's predicament in telling their story. This is a book of learning, humor, and insight."

Looking Deeper

Italian Renaissance Painting according to Genres

Jacob Burckhardt
Introduction by Maurizio Ghelardi Translation by David Britt and Caroline Beamish

Jacob Burckhardt (1818–1897), one of the first great historians of culture and art, was the first scholar to look at Italian Renaissance art by genre, rather than biographically or chronologically. Published for the first time in English.

POWER, KNOWLEDGE, AND EXPERTISE IN ELIZABETHAN ENGLAND

Eric H. Ash

"An original and compelling study of the invention of a new social role in Elizabethan England: the expert mediator. As detailed by Eric Ash, this development was determined in part by the European rivalry over commercial trade routes and colonial dominion as well as by the increasing centralization of power in England under Henry VIII and Elizabeth. Indeed, this study adds a fascinating dimension not just to accounts of centralization, but also to the story of the rise of modern science."

Edited by William Weber

By uncovering the ways in which musicians such as Telemann, Beethoven, Paganini, and Liszt conducted their daily business, the authors reveal how musicians reshaped the frameworks of musical culture and, in the process, the nature of the music itself.
