Aims and Scope

Economics and Philosophy is a journal that publishes articles and book reviews in all areas linking economics and philosophy. These include the methodology and epistemology of economics, the foundations of decision theory and game theory, the nature of rational choice in general, historical work on economics with a philosophical purpose, ethical issues in economics, the use of economic techniques in ethical theory, and many other subjects. The disciplines of economics and philosophy each possess their own special analytical methods, whose combination is powerful and fruitful. Each discipline can be enriched by the other. Economics and Philosophy aims to promote their mutual enrichment.

Editorial Office

All correspondence should be sent to the managing editor at economicsandphilosophy@cambridge.org. Ideally, articles should be submitted in pdf format, but Word and Rich Text format are acceptable. Articles must be prepared for anonymous refereeing. The journal publishes papers in English only. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to prepare a final version in the journal's style and to submit it electronically. For more information, please visit <http://journals.cambridge.org/eap>. Books for review in Economics and Philosophy should be sent to Professor Francesco Guala, Department of Economics, University of Milan, Via Conservatorio 7, 20122 Milan, Italy
