New titles this winter

The Teacher in International Law

by Manfred Lachs, International Court of Justice
1986, 268 pp., Second Revised Edition paper $43.50 ISBN 90-247-3313-8
cloth $62.50 ISBN 90-247-2566-6

"The most complete, entertaining and edifying chronicle of international legal teachers and teaching attempted in this century." American Journal of International Law

"A work of great distinction." The American Society of International Law

The author looks at the history of the law of nations in terms of the thinkers, expounders and interpreters of international law. The book is unique in that it discusses not only the major — and many of the minor — teachers of law and their impact, but also deals with the historical transmission of legal knowledge through the great schools and universities.

This enlarged second edition has been partly amended and is available for the first time in paperback.

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND PUBLICATIONS ON INTERNATIONAL LEGAL ISSUES

The Fund Agreement in the Courts Volumes I, II, and III

The Articles of Agreement of the International Monetary Fund have had many effects on public and private international law, and have been involved in litigation in numerous national courts and international tribunals. Written by Sir Joseph Gold, former General Counsel of the Fund, the first two volumes review the cases on which the Articles have had a bearing. The third volume, which has just been published, examines the impact of the Articles on a wide range of legal problems, including the relationship of the Articles to other defenses and to private international law (particularly to exchange controls in the context of the burden of external debt), discusses drafts of the monetary law provisions of the Restatement of the Foreign Relations Law of the United States, and examines the views of other authors.

Price: Volume I—$3.50; Volume II—$17.50; Volume III—$45.00; the set—$60.00.
Box No. E-304

Legal and Institutional Aspects of the International Monetary System: Selected Essays Volumes I and II

These two volumes, also written by Sir Joseph Gold, contain essays on various legal and organizational aspects of the international monetary system and of the Fund. The essays are addressed to all who are interested in the international monetary system and not to lawyers only. Among the particular topics covered are: the law and change, reform of the international monetary system, SDRs, sanctions, political bodies in the Fund, the legal aspects of conditionality, uniformity and symmetry as principles of the Fund, and the par value system. Volume II includes the text of lectures delivered at The Hague Academy of International Law.

Price: Volume I—$17.50; Volume II—$45.00; the set—$50.00

International Trade and the Tokyo Round Negotiation

Gilbert R. Winham

"Winham does more than tell a complex and technical story well, in words comprehensible to the nonspecialist. He extracts broader lessons by examining the experience through several analytic lenses, and his work will be valuable to those interested in international political economy, bargaining and negotiations, and government-interest group relations, as well as those whose primary focus is trade policy."

Verlag C. H. Beck, the leading German law publisher, offers

Diazo-Microfiche Edition
Reichsgesetzblatt
(1871 - 1945)

Including Law Gazette of the North German Confederation 1867 - 1870

Approximately 83,000 pages on 197 microfiches including a detailed concordance.
Complete with clothbound cassette. DM 4,800 (recommended price)

The microfiche edition contains the entire body of legislation and international treaty law of the German Reich published in the REICHSGESETZBLATT since the Reich was founded in the year 1871 until its collapse in 1945. It is preceded by the Law Gazette of the North German Confederation from 1867 to 1870 which is considered a forerunner of the Reichsgesetzblatt.

A special feature is a comprehensive subject index for the years 1867 to 1929 with an overview of all legislation in the Reich up to the year 1929 (The individual annual subject indices for the following years have been put on film). Of further help will be the enclosed concordance in printed form with a chronological structure, in particular of all laws and international treaties.

This microfiche edition is an indispensable reference work for everyone dealing with German law and German history.

32 Years of Legislative Activity in the Federal Republic of Germany

Bundesgesetzblatt - Parts I, II und III
(1949 - 1980)

Approximately 145,000 pages on 402 diazo-microfiches (reduction ratio 42:1), including a bound index volume, compactly contained in 2 clothbound cassettes. DM 5,750 (recommended price)

Incorporated in the complete microfiche edition of the BUNDESGESETZBLATT is the entire body of Federal legislation and treaty law as published in the three parts of the Official Journal of the Federal Republic of Germany. The edition thus represents a handy and complete collection of all Federal legislation adopted since 1949, including international agreements.

A separate integrated subject matter index in printed form accompanies the microfiche edition, making the contents of Parts I and II equally accessible with respect to particular topics. In addition, the microfiches of annual index volumes and all appendices are included. The publisher will be pleased to supply a detailed description of this project on request.

Deutscher Bundestag / Bundesrat

(the Proceedings of the German Bundestag and Bundesrat since 1949)

Of unique documentary value the proceedings of the German Bundestag and Bundesrat (lower and upper house of parliament, respectively) is an indispensable tool for studying the political development of the Federal Republic of Germany since its beginnings in 1949. The edition contains all stenographic reports recording in great detail the course of each session, their debates, question-and-answer meetings, plenary decisions and resolutions. Moreover, the edition contains all official documents presented to either house of parliament, consisting of legislative drafts, international agreements, formal inquiries and responses, committee recommendations and reports issued by the Federal Government. In addition to the current editions of parliamentary debates (published four times a year for the Bundestag and once a year for the Bundesrat) all preceding 10 legislative sessions (1949-1986) are available including printed index volumes.
