FULL AND FAST REFERENCE
IN POLITICAL SCIENCE ?
TRULY INTERNATIONAL COVERAGE ?

IPSA TRIES HARD !

Do you have easy access to the hundreds of journals which publish articles in political science, public administration and international relations all over the world? At a time when many libraries must take a close look at their budgets, can you and your students dispense with the ever fuller and faster services provided by INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL SCIENCE ABSTRACTS? Can you afford to take a narrow or parochial view of the discipline?

A non-commercial journal published bimonthly by the International Political Science Association itself, the Abstracts provides summaries of articles in both specialized and non-specialized journals, including major yearbooks. Articles in English are abstracted in English; articles in other languages (approximately 30%) are abstracted in French, with all titles translated into English. From 1,450 abstracts in 1978 the progress has been to 5,075 abstracts in 1978. Each issue carries a detailed subject index and a list of the 600 periodicals examined; the final issue of each annual volume contains a cumulative subject index and an author index. Back volumes are again available (from vol. 1, 1951).

Your own Library should have a full set of the Abstracts. The institutional subscription for 1979 costs French Francs 450 (approximately $ 105, £ st. 53). Individuals may subscribe at a reduced rate of F.F. 125 (approximately $ 29, £ st. 15). Specimen on request.

New from Ira Sharkansky

WITHER THE STATE? Politics and Public Enterprise in Three Countries

All modern states are welfare states and all welfare states are incoherent. This incoherence is caused by the growth of institutions on the margins of the state, institutions that are not accountable to the public. Ira Sharkansky describes how this happens in different countries. He concentrates on the statutory authorities in Australia, government companies in Israel, and contractors and special authorities in the United States.

“Ira Sharkansky’s pathbreaking comparative study shows us what has been happening outside the budget and why. Our emphasis on government spending overlooks the huge amounts outside the budget for public authorities and loan guarantees. The author’s lucid and compelling account suggests that if we think budgeting is bad, the rest may be worse.” — Aaron Wildavsky, author of Speaking Truth to Power: The Art and Craft of Policy Analysis and Professor of Political Science, University of California at Berkeley

“Sharkansky’s provocative comparisons with Israel and Australia make it clear that what is happening to U.S. politics is not unique. It is part of a state sprawl that has ramifications that most analysts are just beginning to comprehend. This book will be of great value to public policy analysts in both comparative and American politics.” — Cynthia H. Enloe, author of Ethnic Soldiers and Politics of Pollution and Professor of Political Science, Clark University

“The complexity of the public sector is frequently underestimated, but Sharkansky’s lucid presentation should disabuse social scientists and citizens of simplistic conceptions of the state. This is a timely and important book on a crucial topic in modern government.” — B. Guy Peters, co-author of Can Government Go Bankrupt? and Director of the Center for Public Policy Studies, Tulane University
