THE FALL OF HONG KONG

China's Triumph & Britain's Betrayal

by MARK ROBERTI

Publication Date: 29 September 1994

"At midnight on June 30, 1997, British officials will pull down the Union Jack from the flagpole outside Government House for the last time. Cadres from Beijing will run up the Chinese five-starred red flag. With that simple act, Britain will erase a legacy of injustice – and create a new one. For London is not just handing back the tiny outcropping of land on the South China Coast that she took during the last century. She is also handing over her 5.6 million Chinese subjects living there." – from the Foreword Journalist Mark Roberti reveals shocking evidence of treachery and deceit at the highest levels of government. He uncovers a wealth of information that can not be obtained anywhere outside the official records. Why wait 30 years for the official records to be released?

The National Economic Atlas of China

Compiled by Institute of Geography, Chinese Academy of Sciences and State Planning Committee

Contributing Editor: D. R. F. Taylor, President, International Cartography Association

- Draws on China's most important statistical records and a large number of restricted publications
- Contains a total of 265 maps divided into ten groups
- The maps are supplemented by four separately-bound handbooks of descriptive notes

Since Deng Xiaoping set the People's Republic of China on the road to economic reform in 1978, the country has made remarkable economic progress.

The National Economic Atlas of China is the most comprehensive and detailed picture of this achievement ever compiled. Over 20 ministries, under the leadership of the State Planning Commission, provided data for the Atlas in great detail and specificity. Some of China's most important statistical records were drawn upon, such as the Industrial Census of 1985 and the Third and Fourth Population Censuses of 1982 and 1990, the largest and most comprehensive investigations ever conducted at the national level. Reference was also made to a large number of restricted publications, and several ministries carried out special surveys to provide data for the Atlas project. The computer database exceeds 100 million bytes.

China and Japan

History, Trends, and Prospects
Edited by CHRISTOPHER HOWE

and

BRIAN HOOK

This is a remarkable attempt to understand and summarize the current and historical Sino-Japanese relationship: two countries bound by ties of history, culture, geography, and economic complementarity. It deals with the history of contact, the economic imperatives driving the links, the diplomatic and political manoeuvrings in which both countries indulge, and the antipathies that mean the Sino-Japanese 'special relationship' is far from trouble-free.

The Individual and the State in China

Edited by BRIAN HOOK

One of the most interesting questions in China studies today is the effect that the opening up of the country economically will have on the individual rights and freedoms of the population. This volume addresses that issue by considering recent changes in the relations of the state and several groups in the population: rural peasants, manual workers, the military, the intellectual community, and the youth of China.

Deng Xiaoping

Portrait of a Chinese Statesman

Edited by DAVID SHAMBAUGH

Deng Xiaoping has been vastly important in the history of China in the later half of the twentieth century. This volume explores Deng's rise to power, and his leadership of the country since 1977.

Greater China

Edited by DAVID SHAMBAUGH

It is currently argued by many that China's economic growth is unstoppable and that by mid-21st century the combined economies of China, Hong Kong and Taiwan will surpass both the EC and the US. This volume examines the phenomenon of Greater China, presenting a clear and comprehensive analysis of the growing links between the countries in the areas of economics, culture and politics.

Manuscripts

The China Quarterly welcomes the submission of manuscripts from scholars, including postgraduate students, on all aspects of contemporary China and from all points of view, including those which deal with Taiwan and Overseas Chinese. Articles on China prior to 1949 are also welcome, particularly, but not exclusively, when these relate directly to contemporary China or to the history of the Chinese Communist Party. Articles should be submitted in quadruplicate to the editorial office. They should normally not exceed 8,000 words in length; should be typed in double spacing, with footnotes at the end; and should conform to the styling of The China Quarterly (see below). Submission of a manuscript is taken to imply that it has not previously been published in any form (including non-copyrighted working papers) and that it is not currently being considered elsewhere.

The China Quarterly is published by Oxford University Press on behalf of the School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London. The views expressed in articles are those of individual authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the School.

社會與思想叢書

本叢書定名為「社會與思想」，自然表達了一種期望，即對社會制度層面的研究，應該日益結合而不是互不相干。從學科的角度講，亦即希望社會科學領域的研究與人文哲學領域的研究，能夠相互滲透，相互促進。藉此深入認識中西現代性與中西傳統性，打破以往那種僵硬的「傳統v.s.現代」、「中國v.s.西方」，代之而起的是人類對傳統與現代，東方與西方的同等尊重和相互理解。
