The Cambridge Companion to English Restoration Theatre

Edited by Deborah C. Payne Fisk

This rich and varied portrait of the drama from 1660 to 1714 provides students with essential information about playwrights, staging, dramatic themes and genres in their social and political contexts. The fourteen newly-commissioned essays pay attention to major playwrights such as Dryden, Wycherly and Congreve and also to more minor works and to plays by the first professional female dramatists.

Williams: A Streetcar Named Desire

Philip C. Kolin

A Streetcar Named Desire

revolutionised the modern stage and this book offers the first continuous history of the play in production from 1947 to 1998. Chapters survey major premieres by leading directors. Transformations into other media, such as ballet, film, television, and opera also form an important part of the study.

Plays in Production

Greek Theatre Performance

An Introduction

David Wiles

David Wiles introduces ancient Greek theatre and Athenian cultural life in a book specially written for students and enthusiasts. It assumes no prior knowledge of the ancient world and illustrates how the plays were performed and what can be learned from and achieved by performances of the plays today.
