With this issue THE REVIEW OF POLITICS completes twenty years of publication. The editors resolved to mark the anniversary in two ways: publishing The Image of Man: A Review of Politics Reader; and, after the reasonably satisfactory examination of conscience involved in the necessary survey of twenty volumes, a reaffirmation of the REVIEW's interest in the historical and philosophical approach to political realities in two double issues of the REVIEW. The January issue will be composed entirely of Notre Dame authors as a tribute to the University which has made the REVIEW possible.
