CONTEXTS FOR COMPOSITION, Second Edition

Edited by STANLEY A. CLAYES and DAVID G. SPENCER, both of Loyola University (Chicago). Given fresh focus and flexibility through suggestions from many users of the first edition, Contexts retains its deliberate balancing of selections, the novel with the well-tested, the timely with the timeless. Completely new to this edition are contexts on student protest, existentialism, and Black Power and, in a separate Suggestions for Instructors, full discussions of the rhetorical strategies in each selection. 507 pp., paper, $3.95

EXPOSITION AND THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE Introductory Studies, Second Edition

Edited by JAMES L. SANDERSON and WALTER K. GORDON, both of Rutgers—The State University (Camden). Unique in its integration of essays that serve as models of expository form and, at the same time, explore important topics related to the study of English, this highly successful volume has now been expanded and refurbished with many new selections. All the essays, as in the earlier edition, are clearly written, easily accessible to freshman minds, and represent work by many of the foremost authorities in linguistics. 672 pp., illus., paper, $4.95

FORMS OF VERSE: British and American

SARA DEFORD, Goucher College; and CLARINDA HARRISS LOTT. Emphasizing the technical form of poetry, this introductory text supports its survey and argument with illustrations from such prosodic innovators as Spenser, Pope, Wordsworth, Whitman, Hopkins, Eliot, and Auden. The glossary, fully cross-referenced with the text, is a complete handbook of terms and concepts for the beginning student. October, 430 pp., paper, $3.95 (tent.)

THE STRUCTURE OF SIMPLE ENGLISH SENTENCES: Book I

PHYLLIS REED GUNTER, The University of South Carolina. The aim of this new series is to advance the learner of English—whatever his linguistic weaknesses or native language—to the competency required to construct sophisticated expository texts. A discussion-notes-practice sequence holds through all lessons, with grammar treated on two levels: (a) form, order, co-occurrence; (b) significance of a given signal and the circumstances of its use. October, 500 pp., illus., paper, $4.25 (tent.)

A MILTON HANDBOOK, Fifth Edition

JAMES HOLLY HANFORD, Firestone Library, Princeton University; and JAMES G. TAAFFE, Case Western Reserve University. A comprehensive synopsis of relevant issues concerning all aspects of Milton's corpus: chronology, composition, dating, publication, revision, interpretation, etc., with summaries of major critical appraisals of his work—poetry and prose. September, 450 pp., $5.75 (tent.)

BRITISH POETRY, 1880-1920: Edwardian Voices

Edited by PAUL L. WILEY, The University of Wisconsin; and HAROLD OREL, University of Kansas. A substantial and fresh selection of poems (over 450) by 31 poets, grouped to illustrate kinds of poetry and poetic movements. A long introduction explores the Edwardian spirit of the era's poets and their verse. Criticism, biographies, endnotes, and bibliographies are included. July, 650 pp., $7.95 (tent.)

THE RHETORIC OF OUR TIMES

Edited by J. JEFFERY AUER, Indiana University. A thoroughly contemporary (1960 to date) anthology that views public speaking as the art of "how we get things done in the world." The examples and discussions include not only the traditional rhetoric of advocacy—the rhetoric of the Establishment—but also that of the young, the dissident, the alienated—today's rhetoric of agitation. Capable of supplementing any basic descriptive text on fundamentals, the anthology is so broad and yet so well integrated that it can serve also as a core book for basic courses. 493 pp., paper, $4.50

CURRENT THINKING AND WRITING, Sixth Series

Edited by JOSEPH M. BACHELOR, RALPH L. HENRY, and RACHEL SALISBURY. Articles of the present—mostly from 1967-68—bring the latest series of this enduring classic up to date. Its exercises stimulate the kind of analysis, discussion, and evaluation that lead to effective thinking and writing. Tearout exercise sheets on each essay's specific form and content, plus a separate answer-file, make the book easily adaptable to different teaching-learning approaches. May, 400 pp., paper, $3.95 (tent.)

PMLA is issued seven times a year, in January, March, May, June, September, October, and November, by the Modern Language Association of America, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10011. Annual dues for membership in the Association, which includes subscription to PMLA, are $15 except for the following special categories: (a) student membership at $7, open for a maximum of four years to those who are engaged primarily in a course of study leading to a degree and who do not hold full-time teaching appointments; (b) joint husband-and-wife membership at $22 with only one subscription to PMLA; (c) foreign membership at $10, open to resident citizens of countries other than the United States and Canada.

The subscription price of PMLA for libraries and other institutions is $20 in the United States and Canada and $18 in other countries. Agents deduct $2 of these sums as their fee. A subscription including a bound volume at the end of the year is $35, domestic and foreign. Single copies of the January, March, May, October, and November Program issues may be obtained for $4 each; the June Bibliography and September Directory for $5.

Issues for the current year are available from the MLA Materials Center. Claims for undelivered issues will be honored if they are received within one year of the publication date; thereafter the single issue price will be charged.

For information about the availability of back issues, inquire of the MLA Materials Center, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York 10011. Early and current volumes may be obtained on microfilm from University Microfilms, 313 N. 1st St., Ann Arbor, Mich. Purchase of current volumes on film is restricted to subscribers of the journal.

A STATEMENT OF EDITORIAL POLICY

PMLA endeavors to represent the most distinguished contemporary scholarship and criticism in the modern languages and literatures. It welcomes either new or traditional approaches by either young or established scholars, providing only that whatever it publishes is well written and likely to be of permanent value. The distribution of papers in PMLA should reflect work of distinction actually being done from year to year, regardless of periods or languages. Members who feel their interests neglected by this policy are urged to write and to encourage others to write articles good enough to be published.

Since its audience is the total membership of the Association, PMLA is reluctant to publish minor articles or highly technical studies addressed to specialists in limited fields. Nor does it encourage brief notes or unduly long papers. PMLA does not review books. Articles should be written in a clear, concise, and attractive style, with documentation held to a necessary minimum.

Any member of the Association has the privilege of submitting papers for publication in PMLA. Each paper submitted will be read by at least one consultant with special competence in the field concerned and, if in any way recommended, it will also be read by at least one member of the Editorial Committee. Attempt is made to publish papers within nine months of acceptance. If a decision to accept or reject a paper seems unduly delayed, contributors are reminded that the consultant readers and the Editorial Committee are distinguished men and women who generously contribute their scant leisure to the advancement of scholarship in humane letters.

An abstract in English on the standard form must accompany every article submitted to PMLA. Printed abstract forms and guidelines may be obtained from the Editor.

Manuscripts, prepared in conformity with the MLA Style Sheet, should be addressed to the Editor of PMLA, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10011. Carbon copies are not needed, but should be made and retained by the author. Pamphlets On the Publication of Research and on The Publication of Academic Writing may be purchased from the MLA Materials Center.
