Larissa Bonfante (Editor)
ETRUSCAN LIFE AND AFTERLIFE
A handbook of Etruscan Studies

The lively ferment in Etruscan studies, generated in part by recent archaeological discoveries and fostered by new trends in interpretation, has produced a wealth of information about the people historians traditionally considered as inaccessible. Now scholars are reconstructing a portrait of the wealthy, sophisticated Etruscans whose territory once extended from the Bay of Naples to the Po River. Unfortunately, the English speaking public has had no single resource which synthesises these new findings and interpretations about the Etruscans. In response Dr Bonfante has asked six other internationally known classicists to join her in providing this 'handbook' for the non-specialist as an authoritative and readable guide to the burgeoning Etruscan scholarship. The book is profusely illustrated with notes and bibliographic material which lead to the standard texts and more specialised literature. The result is a reliable and lively volume which brings readers into the mainstream of the latest Etruscan scholarship. Contributors: Larissa Bonfante, N.Thomson de Grummond, M.Torelli, J.MacIntosh Turfa, M.-F. Briguet, F.Prayon, D.Tripp, and E.Richardson.

EGYPT AFTER THE PHAROHS

332 BC – AD 642

Alan K. Bowman

A fascinating new survey of the history, economy and social life of Graeco-roman Egypt.

The millennium between Alexander the Great's invasion and the Arab conquest was a period of enormous change and vitality in Egypt with the land under successively Greek, Roman and Byzantine rule, and the spread of Christianity. From a vast collection of papyrus texts and the evidence of archaeology, Dr Bowman draws together the Egyptian, Greek and Roman elements to present a masterly account of this period of Egyptian history.

WARD OF CAESAR

By KENNETH BENTON

Robert Hale £9.95 ISBN 0 7090 2746 X

A Book for Teachers of Classics and their Pupils

WARD OF CAESAR illumines a little-known chapter of Roman history, the eventful development of Northern Africa under Juba, ward of Augustus Caesar. Based on considerable research into the early life of Juba, the story traces his rise from slavery (after his father's defeat at Thapsus) to the throne of Mauretania, to fame as a warrior-king and distinguished man of letters and, not least, to the hand of Cleopatra's daughter in marriage.

Comments by classical scholars: From Prof. J.S. Morrison, past President of Wolfson College and former Joint Editor of the CLASSICAL REVIEW: 'I have never enjoyed more a book about classical antiquity, especially the characterization of Antony and Octavian, and the women Cleopatra and Octavia ... It is refreshing to get free of the private eye view of Roman history.' From Prof. A.M. McKay, Editor of CLASSICAL WORLD (U.S.A.): 'Entirely satisfactory and a thoroughly good read.' From Bernard V. Slater, Senior Classics Master, Bradford Grammar School: 'A splendid evocation of the Roman world, ... It throws light on the life and times of Juba, the African Varro ...'

From the YORKSHIRE POST: '... A first-rate historical novel.'

As the SCOTSMAN wrote of Mr Benton's earlier book DEATH ON THE APPIAN WAY '... Mr Benton has a good feel for the nuances of political warfare which makes a very readable blend of fiction and authenticated fact. I would most strongly recommend it to young classical scholars.'

Applications for grants are invited for financial assistance towards the undertaking, completion or publication of work that relates to any of the general scholarly purposes of the Roman Society, which are to promote the study of the history, archaeology, literature and art of Italy and the Roman Empire, from the earliest times down to about A.D. 700. Normally this assistance will be given to applicants of post-doctoral status. Grants will not normally be made towards expenses incurred in the preparation of a doctoral or similar thesis.

Applications should be made before the following dates: 1st February and 1st September. They should be sent to the Secretary, Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies, 31–34, Gordon Square, London, WC1H 0PP from whom further particulars may be obtained.

NEW TITLES FROM BATSFORD

ROMAN CIRCUSES: ARENAS FOR CHARIOT RACING

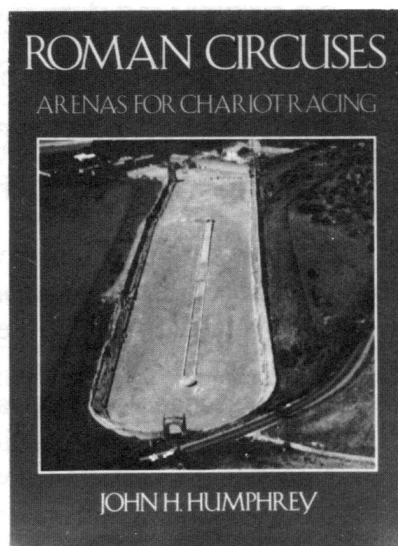

JOHN HUMPRHEY, *Associate
Professor, University of Michigan.*

"Humphrey's book is likely to last for years as a work of reference on the remains of circuses in the Roman Empire. Every item is registered and is patiently assessed for its relevance and intelligibility."

T.L.S.

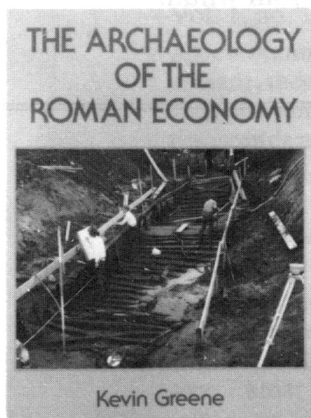

Dr Humphrey's pioneering study traces the architectural development and variety of circuses throughout the Empire. Contemporary mosaics and sculptures, as well as archaeological evidence and literary sources, provide fascinating details about the chariots, horses and charioteers who participated in the races.

The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies

31–34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP

President: Sir David Hunt, KCMG, OBE

THE Society, founded in 1879 to advance the study of Greek language, literature, history and art, maintains conjointly with the Society for the Promotion of Roman Studies and in association with the Institute of Classical Studies of the University of London

1. A Library of some 60,000 volumes, with c. 450 current periodicals.
2. Over 5,500 coloured slides covering a wide variety of subjects, sets of slides with lecture texts and film-strips.

Books and slides can be sent to Members by post. Communications about books and slides should be addressed to the Librarian at the above address.

Four general meetings, with lectures, are held in London annually and there are other meetings in different parts of the country.

Subscribers receive the Society's two annual publications: The Journal of Hellenic Studies, one of the foremost British periodicals in the field of Greek scholarship, containing articles, illustrations, and book reviews; Archaeological Reports, a fully illustrated account of fresh discoveries in Greece and Greek lands, with bulletins announcing important new acquisitions by museums in Britain.

These two periodicals are on sale to the general public.

The annual subscription to the Society is £17.00. The composition fee for life-membership is £85.00 for those over 65 years of age, after 5 years membership. The subscription for Libraries is £22.00 and for Student Associates £7.50. There is no entrance fee.

Applications for membership or inquiries about the Society should be addressed to the Secretary. Telephone: 01-387 7495.

The Classical Association

THE main aims of the Classical Association are to promote and sustain interest in classical studies, to maintain their rightful position in universities and schools, and to give scholars and teachers opportunities of meeting and discussing their problems. It organizes an annual conference, lasting four or five days, in a university centre, and sponsors over thirty branches, most of which hold Greek and Latin Reading Competitions for Schools. Its activities are fully reported in its annual Proceedings, issued free to all members.

The present membership of the Association is approximately 4,000. Membership is open both to individuals and to institutions at an annual subscription of £3; life composition for individual members, £63. Members may obtain the Classical Review and Classical Quarterly at reduced prices (Review £13, Quarterly £14; combined subscription, £24). Greece and Rome may also be obtained through the Association for an annual subscription of £11. Applications for membership and subscriptions for the journals (which should normally be received by 31st January in each year) should be addressed to the Treasurer, Mr. R. Wallace, Dept. Classics, University of Keele, Keele, Staffs. ST5 5BG.

The Association can also supply copies of the Index to the First Series of the Classical Review (price £1.50, post free) and of the last issue of The Year's Work in Classical Studies, covering the years 1945–47 (price £1, post free). These publications and details of the various occasional publications of the Association are obtainable from the Treasurer. Inquiries should be sent to either of the Joint Secretaries, Prof. John Percival, Dept. of Classics, University College, P.O. Box 78, Cardiff CF1 1XL, and Miss H. M. Jones, 18 Valley Close, Pinner, Middlesex.
