

Illustrations

- | | | |
|----|--|---------------|
| 1 | W. H. Reid, 'Hum! Hum! A New Song' [1793] © The British Library Board. | page 6 |
| 2 | Daniel Isaac Eaton [A Circular, together with a prospectus of a series of political pamphlets.] © The British Library Board. | 33 |
| 3 | James Gillray, London-Corresponding-Society alarm'd: vide guilty consciences [1798]. Courtesy of the Lewis Walpole Library. | 46 |
| 4 | [Robert Thomson] A New song, to an old tune,-viz. "God save the king" . © The British Library Board. | 80 |
| 5 | Wonderful Exhibition!!! Signor Gulielmo Pittachio (1794). Trustees of the British Museum. All rights reserved. | 126 |
| 6 | Richard Newton, Soulagement en Prison, or Comfort in Prison . Lewis Walpole Library (1793). Courtesy of the Lewis Walpole Library. | 139 |
| 7 | Richard Newton, Promenade on the State Side of Newgate . (1793). Courtesy of the Huntington Library, San Marino, California. | 140 |
| 8 | Amusement for Starving Mechanics. For the benefit of the Tythe and Tax Club. Shortly will be performed, the comical tragedy of Long Faces, etc. [A squib.][1795?]. © The British Library Board. | 159 |
| 9 | King Killing . [A handbill, reprinted from one entitled "Tyrannicide."] [London, 1797 [1795?]] © The British Library Board. | 163 |
| 10 | John Thelwall, Spies and Informers. On Wednesday, Feb. 5. 1794, J. Thelwall will begin a course of lectures on the most important branches of political morality, etc. [A posting bill.] © The British Library Board. | 177 |
| 11 | When the late dreadful accident, etc. [A handbill charging the king with callousness in regard to the accident at the Haymarket Theatre, 3 February 1794.] [London, 1794.] © The British Library Board. | 179 |