Cover. This well-preserved pukara (hilltop fortress) is one of many in the Andean highlands. Most pukaras date to the Late Intermediate Period (c. AD 1000–1450), reflecting a period of conflict following the disintegration of the Wari and Tiwanaku states. This site features in one of six articles in a special section in this issue on the 'Geospatial Platform for Andean Culture, History and Archaeology' (GeoPACHA) initiative. For more information, see 'A new view of hillforts in the Andes: expanding coverage with systematic imagery survey' by Elizabeth Arkush, Lauren E. Kohut, Romuald Housse, Ryan D. Smith & Steven A. Wernke in this issue (photograph by Christophe Delaere, ALTI-plano).
