HODDER AND STOUGHTON

RAYNOR C. JOHNSON

A Religious Outlook for Modern Man

A modern man's guide to those questions asked by every thinking person but answered by no-one—How did Man come to be? Why do men suffer? What is the meaning and purpose of human life? plus many others. Consistently puts first things first in such a manner that any open-minded reader cannot fail as Dr Weatherhead says to be 'thrilled, comforted and mentally stimulated.'

Birmingham Post

'Packed full of valuable insights; few readers will fail to find it rewarding, clarifying, and above all heartening; for it portrays a universe of immense, though mysterious value.'

Two Worlds 21s

KARL A. OLLSON

Seven Sins and Seven Virtues

A re-examination of the classic seven sins and seven virtues as a means to revitalising our sense of Christian values. Comparable to Joy Davidson's Smoke on the Mountain.

HUGH MONTEFIORE

Beyond Reasonable Doubt

How can a non-Christian approach the Christian faith? One of the outstanding New Testament scholars and thinkers of today presents quite a new line of argument to satisfy any intelligent enquirer.

G. C. B. DAVIES

Men for the Ministry

Foreword by the Bishop of London

The history of the London College of Divinity, better known as St. John's, Highbury, from its tiny beginnings in St. John's Wood to its present life. A record of great achievement, an inspiration and an encouragement to the whole Church.

Life in Christ Jesus

John Knox

4s. 6d.

Published in the U.S.A. by the Seabury Press

Dr Knox writes mainly for the clergy and the theoretically knowledgeable laity. The events of St Paul's life, his temperament and experiences, and sense of the immediacy of his times are effectively used to interpret his thought. The reader will find this book a rich source of devotional material.

The Atonement

J. W. C. Wand

4s.

The gift of the teacher, the knowledge of the scholar, and the concern of the pastor combine to make this an outstandingly good little book on the fundamental Christian belief. "The Atonement is like a precious jewel, which is so large, that you can see properly only one facet at a time," but in examining the three groups of facets Dr Wand never loses sight of the marvellous beauty of the doctrine as a whole, the sheer fact of the Atonement.

The Church's Use of the Bible

D. E. Nineham: Editor

21s. net

'Fortunate are the undergraduates who can hear, and fortunate the faculty of theology which can organize, a team of lecturers such as this book now makes available to a larger audience; each one is a master of his subject . . . In short, this is a splendid book.' View Review

Spiritual Priorities

L. J. Baggott

21s. net

Is Christianity credible? Has not modern knowledge made belief impossible? Is the Christian ideal attainable in a world dominated by nuclear politics and the economic rat-race? This is a book for thinking people: for the person attracted to Christianity but doubtful of the validity of some aspects of it; and for the Christian who is looking for a firmer intellectual basis for his faith.

CALVIN'S COMMENTARIES

A NEW TRANSLATION

Edited by D. W. TORRANCE and T. F. TORRANCE

'There can be no question that pulpit ministries throughout our country would be enriched if every preacher possessed and made constant use of this great work.'

THE PSALMS IN CHRISTIAN WORSHIP

J. A. LAMB

A detailed history of the liturgical use of the psalter in all parts of the Christian Church.

"An admirable book, which we unreservedly welcome"—BRITISH WEEKLY.

"A careful, full and well-documented survey"—CHURCH TIMES.

"A most painstaking and scholarly book, with warmth in it"—CHURCH OF ENGLAND NEWSPAPER. 21s.

PAULINE TEACHING ON MARRIAGE

J. J. VON ALLMEN

Studies in Christian Faith and Practice No. 6.

A penetrating study on St. Paul's teaching on the relationship between husband and wife by the Professor of Practical Theology, University of Neuchâtel. 7s. 6d.

DIALOGUE: EAST AND WEST

A. M. ALLCHIN (editor)

Papers on relations with the Orthodox Church read by noted theologians of different persuasions to the Fellowship of St. Alban and St. Sergius. One contributor is the Archbishop of Canterbury, who writes, "Our two traditions will have to set to work on precisely the questions that have here been brought up". 4s. 6d.

A Reasoned Faith

Collected Essays by JOHN BAILLIE

John Baillie's life-work included many sermons and addresses, twenty-one of which are here collected. While those in Christian Devotion (1962) were of a simpler character, this book includes addresses on the more theological and philosophical themes which he knew so well how to expound, and shows to the full the working of his balanced and profoundly Christian intellect. 256 pages 30s. net.

The True Face of the Kirk

An Examination of the Ethos and Traditions of the Church of Scotland

R. STUART LOUDEN

Both for its own well-being and in its relations with other Christians, a church (Dr. Loudon urges) needs to understand and explain where it stands on the larger issues of ecumenical discussion. Starting from the position of the Church of Scotland as 'Ecclesia Scoticana', he deals with its ministry, structure, and worship; with Church, State and Community; and with the Ecumenical Meeting-point. Notes and Appendixes give essential documentation. 160 pages 21s. net.
