Associate Editor (Book Reviews)

Julia Torrie, St. Thomas University, Canada

Central European History offers articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome, whether cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired.

Founded by Sylvia L. Thrupp

Comparative Studies in Society and History is a forum for new research and interpretation concerning problems of recurrent patterning and change in human societies through time and in the contemporary world. NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

CSSH welcomes submissions. Essays should be written in such a way that complex issues are made intelligible and appealing to erudite readers who are not specialists in the subject under investigation. The editors prefer essays that are concise and will not accept for review essays over 14,000 words, including notes and references. Authors are also required to attach an abstract of no more than 250 words in length, including a concise description of their hypothesis, methodology, key sources, and conclusions. Please include with your submission your full contact information, including your email address.

The editors ask that submissions be presented in a manner that facilitates the work of reviewing and editing. Please submit a digital version of your work by email attachment to: hist-cssh@umich.edu, or on a CD. No printed copies are required. The journal works in Microsoft Word. The journal uses Windows-based PCs exclusively. The work should be formatted in 12-point type and double-spaced throughout, including quotations, notes, and bibliography. Please allow generous margins of an inch or more for editorial corrections. Authors of essays accepted for publication must secure and submit permissions to reproduce photographs or other illustrations and tables.
