The LEO 1500 SERIES

Nothing else gets close...

Field emission SEMs just don't come any better or easier to use than this. The LEO 1500 Series offers both new and experienced users the ability to easily produce the highest resolution images. By using our expertise in electron optics and years of software experience, LEO can offer you your most productive FESEM experience yet. Add to that the most versatile analytical and specimen handling capabilities available in an FESEM, and you'll know why the LEO 1500 Series is the choice of so many.
