The Society for the Study of Theology: Explorations in Contemporary Theology

THE FUTURE AS GOD'S GIFT

Explorations in Christian Eschatology

Edited by David Fergusson and Marcel Sarot

International theologians consider the importance of Christian eschatology - both to the life, authority and hope of the church in the world, and to contemporary life and thought generally. Issues addressed include the understanding of time and the status of apocalyptic and millenarian language.

ESSSAT Issues in Science and Theology

THE HUMAN PERSON IN SCIENCE AND THEOLOGY

Edited by N. H. Gregersen, W. B. Drees and U. Görman

Leading scholars explore personhood from scientific and theological perspectives. This important collection shows how the dialogue between science and theology extends beyond the relation of theology with physics and biology, to include neuroscience, psychology and sociology.

THE MEETING OF RELIGIONS AND THE TRINITY

Gavin D'Costa

Gavin D'Costa argues that so called 'pluralist' theologies of religion are actually masks for a secularising agenda. He shows that a retrieval and development of classic Trinitarian thinking holds much more promise for interreligious understanding and dialogue. This book shows D'Costa to be not only an astute critic but also a profound constructive theologian.

LOST ICONS

Reflections on Cultural Bereavement

Rowan Williams

Rowan Williams argues that we have let go of a number of crucial imaginative patterns - 'icons' - for thinking about ourselves, including areas such as images of childhood and our awkwardness at speaking about community. This timely book by a master of contemporary Christian thought sketches out a renewed language for the soul.

THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST

Which God Gave to Him to Show to His Servants What Must Soon Take Place (Revelation 1.1)

Margaret Barker

A new and transforming approach to the Book of Revelation, based on a fresh reading of the primary sources. As an Old Testament scholar, Margaret Barker reads Revelation as a book of Hebrew prophecy. She shows that Revelation represents some of the oldest material in the New Testament, some of it from Jesus himself. This book will have profound implications for the understanding of Christian origins.

PAUL AND THE STOICS

Troels Engberg-Pedersen

Dr Engberg-Pedersen shows how a range of problems encountered in twentieth-century interpretation of three major Pauline letters (Philippians, Galatians, Romans) may be overcome by reading the epistles in the light of ancient Stoic ethics.

THE DEAD SEA SCROLLS IN THEIR HISTORICAL CONTEXT

Edited by Timothy Lim et al

What is the significance of the Dead Sea Scrolls; and what do we know about the community that possessed them? This book represents 'state of the art' work in international scrolls scholarship.

FROM AWAKENING TO SECESSION

Radical Evangelicals in Switzerland and Britain, 1815-35

Timothy C F Stunt

A study of the impact of the Swiss Reveil (Awakening) on British evangelicals in the 1820s. Stunt rediscovers common ground which was shared by a wide spectrum of Christians, who were later seen as mutually hostile.

All correspondence relating to subscriptions should be addressed to T&T Clark Ltd, 59 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 2LQ, Scotland, UK. Books for review should be addressed to Professor Iain R. Torrance, Department of Divinity, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen AB24 3UB, Scotland, UK (e-mail: i.r.torrance@abdn.ac.uk) SJT's homepage is at: <http://abdn.ac.uk/~div054/sjt>

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Articles for SJT must be submitted on disk as well as in hardcopy. One copy of a proposed article should be submitted in hardcopy with an accompanying disk to: Professor Iain Torrance, Department of Divinity, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen AB24 3UB, Scotland, UK. A second copy (hardcopy only) should be sent to Professor Bryan Spinks, Yale University, Institute of Sacred Music, 409 Prospect Street, New Haven, CT 06511-2167, USA. The authors of articles should send an e-mail address to Professor Torrance, and their submission will be acknowledged in that format.

Submission of a disk is essential, as the article will be sent to international referees as an e-mail attachment. The very much preferred format is MS Word for Windows.

The average length of articles is 5,000–6,000 words. Those in excess of 8,000 words cannot be considered. Shorter articles are much more likely to be accepted. Articles should be formatted with footnotes (not endnotes), and the footnotes should be fully justified. Single quotation marks should be used for quotation, and double quotation marks for quotation within a quotation.

Disks, once submitted, will be understood to contain the final form of an article, and if the article is accepted, a first proof will be produced from the author's disk (with minor editorial emendations). No further revisions or additions should then be made by authors.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published in English, and is not being considered for publication by another journal.

With the increased use of e-mail, the editors will draw on US as well as British scholars to contribute book reviews. Articles have always been international.

First proofs of articles (but not of reviews) will be sent to authors for correction, and must be returned within three weeks of receipt. Corrections should be confined to typographical errors.

Contributions from North America may use North American spelling. Greek and Hebrew words, which should be used sparingly, need not be transliterated. Capitalisation should be kept to a minimum, and in particular should not be used in pronouns referring to God.

Contributors of articles and of article reviews (but not of reviews) receive six copies of the journal in which their article appears without charge.
