BOHUSLAV MARTINU

“ Born in 1890, although in every sense a ‘ contemporary ’ composer, he is neither the leader nor the follower of any particular school . . . He is strongly aware of the realities of the world in which he lives and desires more than anything to search out and give expression in his music to fundamental human values. This is a logical projection of the deep interest he has always felt for Czech folklore, and has obviously been stimulated by the sharp vicissitudes through which his country and his fellow men everywhere are passing.”
