Mongolia Revisited

By OWEN LATTIMORE. A lively picture of Mongolia today, by the only American who has traveled in all the major regions of the China-Russia frontier and also speaks and reads the three most important languages of that frontier. Beginning with a geographical and historical survey, the author goes on to explain how Marxism succeeded in a country of nomads, and how Mongolia keeps its balance between the two giants of Communism. 8 pages of half-tones; endpaper map. $5.75

STRATEGY AND TACTICS OF SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY

By J. M. MACKINTOSH. This book examines the major policy decisions of the USSR made since 1944, the year which saw the beginnings of the Soviet bloc as we know it today. The author shows which types of decisions are likely to be abandoned as unfruitful, and which are fundamental to Soviet policy and of both immediate and long-range concern to the Western world. $8.00

FROM MACMILLAN—

A SERIES OF PRACTICE READINGS FOR THE BEGINNER IN RUSSIAN

GRADED RUSSIAN READERS

By Militsa Greene and Dennis Ward, both of the University of Edinburgh

These three paperbound books provide beginners with continuous passages for reading and comprehension that are suitably graded for concurrent use with Russian grammars. The first two volumes are divided into sections, each containing passages which illustrate particular grammatical features listed in the Table of Contents. Volume three contains annotated extracts from the works of Russian authors and is primarily concerned with syntax. Both of the first two volumes are progressive and cumulative. There is constant repetition of grammatical features learned in earlier sections, but the authors are careful not to anticipate points that have not been studied.

Paperbound, available in January, $1.50 per volume.
