

mania, as in the utter apathy of dementia. If a patient in a lunatic asylum be discovered in tears, it will be found that it is either a patient commencing to recover, or an emotional outbreak in an epileptic who is scarcely truly insane; while actually insane patients appear to have lost the power of weeping: it is only returning reason which can once more unloose the fountains of their tears. Even when a lunatic is telling one in fervid language how she has been deprived of her children, or the outrages that have been perpetrated on herself, her eye is never even moist. The ready gush of tears which accompanies the plaint of the sane woman contrasts with the dry-eyed appeal of the lunatic. It would, indeed, seem that tears give relief to feelings which when pent up lead to madness. It is one of the privileges of reason to be able to weep. Amidst all the misery of the insane, they can find no relief in tears."—"Brit. Med. Journ.," Dec. 15, 1877.

UNIVERSITY LECTURERS ON MENTAL DISEASES.

The Scottish Universities Commission has just issued its Report, and among the recommendations one is that Lectureships on Mental Diseases should be instituted in the Edinburgh, Glasgow, and Aberdeen Universities.

THE LATE MR. GEO. P. BACON.

We have heard with much regret of the death of Mr. G. P. Bacon, of Lewes, who has since 1868 printed this Journal. His connection with the Journal was not merely commercial, for he took a personal interest in doing the best he could for it, and spared no pains to bring it out punctually and in a way to satisfy the Members. As a man of education and literary ability he had an interest in producing the Journal in the best form, and his co-operation was always appreciated by the successive Editors. He was widely known and greatly esteemed.
