The Beginnings of Russian Industrialization, 1800-1860

WILLIAM L. BLACKWELL

In this broad, ambitious reconstruction of the early stages of Russia's industrial development—the first to appear in English—Professor Blackwell shows that the period from 1800 to 1860 was one of necessary preparation for the rapid industrialization of the later 19th century. The book is based upon a wide variety of primary and secondary sources in the Russian language. $12.50

Studies in the Institutional History of Early Modern Japan

EDITED BY JOHN W. HALL AND MARIUS B. JANSEN

This study contains twenty-two papers by leading historians of the Tokugawa Period (1600-1868), eight of which have never before been published. The papers show that in many institutional aspects Japan was far from backward before the Meiji Period and that many of the preconditions of modernization were present and developing much earlier than has generally been believed. $8.50

JOAN CONNELLY ULLMAN

THE NEW BASIS OF CIVILIZATION

In this book, published in 1907, Simon Patten tried to modify traditional assumptions about the permanence of poverty and the possibility of substantial improvements in the standard of living. In his Introduction, Mr. Fox examines why Patten was so far ahead of his time in accepting the idea of abundance for everyone. The John Harvard Library. $5.00

THE TRAGIC WEEK

A Study of Anticlericalism in Spain, 1875-1912

The Tragic Week occurred in Barcelona in 1909, beginning as a general strike and ending with the burning of churches. This book examines the underlying factors of the uprising, specifically the labor situation, traces its events, and discusses its consequences. "A splendid analytical review. . . . Excellent bibliography."—Choice. $9.50

THE ECONOMIC HISTORY ASSOCIATION

The Economic History Association was organized in 1940. Its purpose is to encourage research and teaching in the history of economic activity and of economic thought. It seeks to cooperate with societies devoted to the study of agricultural, industrial, and business history. It aims to bring together economists, historians, statisticians, geographers, and others who find that the story of economic change throws light on their field of interest or is enriched by their contribution. Membership is open to all who are interested in the history of economic life in all its phases in the United States and other countries.

The JOURNAL OF ECONOMIC HISTORY is published for The Economic History Association by the Graduate School of Business Administration of New York University. Correspondence concerning contributions to the Journal should be addressed to the editorial office: Hugh G. J. Aitken, Editor, Department of Economics, Amherst College, Amherst, Massachusetts 01002. Applications for membership should be addressed to Herman E. Krooss, Treasurer, in care of New York University, 100 Trinity Place, New York, New York 10006.
