Cumulative Index 1981-1990

With over 12,000 entries, this ten-year index to the AJIL is thorough and highly specific in its coverage. The Table of Cases pinpoints the location of over 800 cases that have been discussed over the course of a decade in the AJIL. The Subject Index displays headings in bold-faced print, in addition to alphabetically listing the title of articles and the names of authors.

In this age of computerized research, the Cumulative Index is also a useful companion to researchers conducting online searches of some 10,000 pages on either LEXIS® or WESTLAW®.

For all concerned with international law and international relations, the new Cumulative Index is unquestionably an indispensable and authoritative resource.

International Law is undergoing considerable expansion

Keep in touch with legal developments through publications from the United Nations. Under the U.N. Charter, the United Nations has a mandate in legal affairs 'to promote the judicial settlement of disputes between states and encourage the development and codification of International Law.'

Since its establishment in 1945, the United Nations has and continues to play a leading role in the area of International Law, being involved in the creation and implementation of hundreds of multilateral agreements.

To this end, many permanent organs and Ad Hoc committees have been created to deal with international legal matters. Much of the work, published on a regular basis, covers the areas of:

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS LAW

- East-West Joint Venture Contracts
- European Agreement concerning the International Carriage of Dangerous Goods
- Legal Guide on Drawing up International Contracts for the Construction of Industrial works

THE ENVIRONMENT AND NATURAL RESOURCES

- International Register of Potentially Toxic Chemicals (IRPTC Legal File)
- Storage of Hazardous Materials: A Technical Guide for Safe Warehousing of Hazardous Materials
- Convention on Civil Liability for Damage caused during carriage of Dangerous Goods by Road, Rail and Inland Navigation Vessels

HUMAN RIGHTS AND SOCIAL ISSUES

- International Bill of Human Rights
- Yearbook on Human Rights
- Universal Declaration of Human Rights

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

- United Nations Congress on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders - 8th Report
- The Death Penalty
- Guide to Computer Information Systems in Criminal Justice

LAW OF THE SEA

- The Law of the Sea: Baselines - National Legislation with Illustrative Maps
- The Law of the Sea: Maritime Boundary Agreements
- The Law of the Sea: Master File containing references to Official Documents of the Third U.N. Conference on the Law of the Sea

INTERNATIONAL COURT OF JUSTICE

- Reports of Judgments, Advisory Opinions and Orders
- ICJ Yearbook
- Pleadings, Oral Arguments, Documents

TREATY SERIES

- Treaties and International Agreements entered into by member states of the United Nations

Henry's Wars and Shakespeare's Laws

Perspectives on the Law of War in the Later Middle Ages

THEODOR MERON, New York University School of Law and The Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva

Shakespeare's Henry V has traditionally been acclaimed for its impressive depiction of the psychological and political impact of warfare, and it remains one of the most widely-discussed plays in the canon. In this highly original, scholarly, and thought-provoking study Professor Meron uses rare medieval ordinances and other medieval and Renaissance historical and legal sources to provide challenging new contexts for Shakespeare's famous play. The result is a gripping account of how Henry V and other 'Histories' dramatically articulated complex medieval and Renaissance attitudes to warfare and the conduct of nations and individuals in time of war. The author uses the play and the campaign itself as a frame for the examination of the medieval laws of war, and examines stability and change in attitudes towards the laws of war.

International Law and How We Use It

ROSALYN HIGGINS,
London School of Economics and Political Science

The greatest possible honor for an international lawyer is to be invited to deliver the Hague Academy General Course in International Law. Rosalyn Higgins was so honored and this volume is the revised text of the lectures she delivered there. It shows that there is an essential and unavoidable choice to be made between the perception of international law as either a system of neutral rules or as a system of decision-making directed towards the attainment of specific declared values. This book focuses on resolving this in addition to many other difficult and unanswered issues in contemporary international law. This accessible volume will be particularly useful to scholars and students of international law who seek a better understanding of the subject and desire to see how the great web of inter-related concepts which comprise international law are held together as a coherent and cohesive whole.

The Privatization Process in Central Europe

The Privatization Process in Russia, Ukraine, and the Baltic States

ROMAN FRYDMAN, New York University, ANDRZEJ RAPACZYNSKI, Columbia University, and JOHN S. EARLE, Central European University

"Reformers in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union will benefit enormously from these detailed cross-country studies. The authors have been in the forefront of creative thinking about privatization in the post-communist societies, and their intellectual leadership is evident throughout this exciting project."—Jeffrey Sachs, Harvard University.

International Trade and Competition Law in Japan

MITSUO MATSUSHITA, University of Tokyo

This book analyzes the means by which the Japanese government regulates business activity, principally through the use of competition or anti-monopoly laws. The book also examines the legal aspects of industrial policy as well as the legal framework of foreign trade and investment in Japan.

(Modern Japanese Law 1)

1993 368 pp. $39.95

Essays in Private International Law

PETER NORTH, Jesus College, Oxford

These essays examine issues of topical importance in the three traditional areas of private international law: the jurisdiction of the courts, choice of the applicable law, and the recognition of foreign judgments.

1993 296 pp. $49.95

Contemporary Issues in Corporate Governance

Edited by D.D. PRENTICE, Oxford University and Pembroke College, and
P.R.J. HOLLAND, Allen & Overy

Since the formation of the joint stock company there has been continuing debate as to the structure of corporate governance and the controls that are, or should be, exercised over corporate management. The volume provides a broad picture of what is currently happening in this debate in the U.K. and beyond.

1993 248 pp. $52.00

Broadening the Frontiers of Human Rights

Essays in Honour of Asbjorn Eide

Edited by DONNA GOMIEN, Norwegian Institute of Human Rights

The rise of democratic ideals in much of the world has engendered hopes for the future, while at the same time the birth pangs of the fledgling democracies have led to new dangers for human rights and fundamental freedoms. This volume provides a comprehensive survey of what human rights has meant and how its meaning is constantly changing.

EMANCIPATION

The Making of the Black Lawyer, 1844-1944

J. Clay Smith, Jr.

Foreword by Justice Thurgood Marshall

"It should be read by everyone interested in understanding the road African-Americans have traveled and the challenges that lie ahead"—from the Foreword by Justice Thurgood Marshall. In this, the first truly comprehensive social and political history of black lawyers in America, Smith presents a one-hundred-year study of the achievements black lawyers attained in the face of overwhelming odds.

1993. 728 pp, 30 illus. Cloth, 3181-3, $56.95

THE FAILURE OF THE CRIMINAL PROCEDURE REVOLUTION

Craig M. Bradley

Bradley argues that no shift in ideology, no commitment of resources, and no refinement of Supreme Court jurisprudence would resolve the inadequacies of the current criminal procedure law system, and he proposes that the U.S. should, in keeping with the international trend, regulate police procedures through a comprehensive and nationally applicable code.

1993. 280 pp. Cloth, 3200-3, $32.95

HUMAN RIGHTS IN CRISIS

The International System for Protecting Rights

During States of Emergency

Joan Fitzpatrick

Fitzpatrick offers the first systematic and comprehensive effort to examine the multifaceted system for monitoring human rights abuses during states of emergency.

POLITICS AND PLEA BARGAINING

Victims' Rights in California

Candace McCoy

In 1982, California voters passed Proposition 8, promoted by supporters as the Victims' Bill of Rights, on the initiative ballot. McCoy describes the political genesis of victims' rights legislation and the impact of Proposition 8 on plea bargaining.

EMPLOYMENT AND HUMAN RIGHTS

The International Dimension

Richard Lewis Siegel

Siegel traces the historical development of the right to employment as well as regional and global efforts to achieve full employment. "[His] treatment of the employment issue brings together three perspectives, national, international and transnational. . . . This is quite a feat, conceptually and intellectually"—Alexander J. Groth.

THE INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION OF JURISTS

Global Advocates for Human Rights

Howard B. Tolley, Jr.

Since 1952 the International Commission of Jurists has inspired the international human rights movement with demands that governments obey the rule of law. Tolley traces the Commission's history through 1993 and tests claims that a political and legal "new world order" has begun to limit state sovereignty.

Pennsylvania Studies in Human Rights. Jun. 1994. 304 pp, 23 illus. Cloth, 3254-2, $36.95

GENOCIDE

RECONCEIVING REALITY: WOMEN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW

Dorinda G. Dallmeyer, Editor

This study provides in-depth coverage of feminist analysis of international law, the public/private distinction in law and its impact on women's issues, and feminist approaches to issues of war and peace—including extensive discussion of war crimes against women. It reflects the papers and views presented at a special program organized by the Women in International Law Interest Group for the Society's 1993 Annual Meeting.
