

“In an era like this, with a variety of fundamentalisms on the loose, the world certainly does not need to increase the number of people who believe we are living in the ‘end time’ and consequently need to concentrate on personal salvation rather than work together for social recovery.”

Shirley Goldberg, ISSUE 149

CHALLENGING and engaging, Humanist Perspectives offers thoughtful, lively commentaries on matters of human importance. Visit www.humanistperspectives.org to learn more about the journal and to read all of last year's articles, essays, interviews and book reviews.