Keeping you in touch with current research and opinion

Annual Review of Applied Linguistics

Editor: William Grabe, Northern Arizona University

The Annual Review of Applied Linguistics aims to make recent scholarship in this increasingly important field available to a broad audience. It provides comprehensive, up to date reviews of the year's research, and gives insights into future growth and developments. Topics covered include:

- bilingualism • psycholinguistics • lexicography
- sociolinguistics • computer-assisted instruction

Providing insightful discussion and over 500 new citations a year, the Annual Review of Applied Linguistics is an invaluable resource for all applied linguistics, language teachers and students of linguists.

Published in March. Volume 15 in 1995: £39/$55 for institutions; £21/$39 for individuals; £16/$25 for members of AILA, BAAL, IPrA & AAAL; airmail £6 per year extra. ISSN 0267-1905

Studies in Second Language Acquisition

Editor: Albert Valdman, Indiana University

Studies in Second Language Acquisition is a journal of international scope, devoted to the acquisition of a second language, or languages, whether by formal learning or by assimilation in countries where different cultures live and communicate side by side. The Journal also investigates the many implications of such language contact. While Studies in Second Language Acquisition gives preference to theoretically oriented papers and reports of empirical research, discussions of pedagogical issues are considered if they relate to major theoretical issues in the field. Each volume contains four issues, one of which is devoted to a single theme or topic, the other three issues contain theoretically orientated papers, reports of empirical research or discussions with broad pedagogical implications and review articles.

Published in March, June, September & December. Volume 17 in 1995: £61/$94 for institutions; £29/$46 for individuals; £23/$36 for members of TESOL, AILA, IPrA & AAAL; airmail £13 per year extra. ISSN 0272-2631

Phonology

Editors: Colin J. Ewen, University of Leiden & Ellen M. Kaisse, University of Washington

An authoritative periodical devoted exclusively to phonology, it combines theoretical and empirical interests to create a unique forum for the productive interchange of ideas among phonologists and those working in related disciplines. Many articles first published in Phonology are now recognised as classics, representing major advances in the field. As well as research articles, each issue includes a section of 'Squibs and Replies', shorter pieces on topics of current or controversial interest.

Published in May, August & December. Volume 12 in 1995: £63/$105 for institutions; £36/$59 for individuals; airmail £11 per year extra. ISSN 0952-6757

Language Variation and Change

Editors: David Sankoff, Université de Montréal, William Labov & Anthony Kroch, University of Pennsylvania

Language Variation and Change is the only journal dedicated exclusively to the study of linguistic variation and the capacity to deal with systematic and inherent variation in synchronic and diachronic linguistics. It concentrates on the details of linguistic structure in actual speech production and processing (or writing), including contemporary or historical sources. This journal is a valuable resource for:

- sociologists • phonologists • linguists
- sociolinguists • psychologists • dialectologists
- anthropologists

Published in April & October. Volume 7 in 1995: £37/$55 for institutions; £18/$28 for individuals; £14/$25 for members of TESOL, ACTFL, IPrA & NWAV; £14 for students; airmail £7 per year extra. ISSN 0954-3945

Journal of Linguistics

Editors: Robert Borsley & Ian Roberts, University College of North Wales, Bangor

The Journal of Linguistics is internationally acknowledged as a core title and covers all branches of theoretical linguistics, including:

- syntax • morphology • phonology • phonetics
- semantics • pragmatics • sociolinguistics
- psycholinguistics • historical linguistics
- computational aspects of language & linguistic theory

The full list of publications received and the comprehensive index published annually make the journal an even more valuable resource for all linguists.

Published in March & September. Volume 31 in 1995: £53/$97 for institutions; £42/$63 for individuals; airmail £12 per year extra. ISSN 0022-2267

English Today

The International Review of the English Language

Editor: Tom McArthur, Cambridge

Celebrating a decade of publication in 1994, English Today provides a unique forum for both foreign and native users of English. It successfully combines academic rigour with popular appeal, eclecticism with depth.

Wide ranging

English Today covers all aspects of the language, including its uses and abuses, its international variations, its history, literature and linguistics, and its usages and neologisms. Special articles and regular features keep readers up to date with current opinion and recent developments. Vigorous debates continue on the nature and teaching of the international standard language, academic models of the language and the influence of new communication technologies on English.
