Lynn M. Thomas, University of Washington, Seattle, USA

Justin Willis, University of Durham, UK

The Journal of African History publishes articles and book reviews ranging widely over the African past, from the late Stone Age to the present. In recent years increasing prominence has been given to economic, cultural and social history and several articles have explored themes which are also of growing interest to historians of other regions such as: gender roles, demography, health and hygiene, propaganda, legal ideology, labour histories, nationalism and resistance, environmental history, the construction of ethnicity, slavery and the slave trade, and photographs as historical sources. Contributions dealing with pre-colonial historical relationships between Africa and the African diaspora are especially welcome, as are historical approaches to the post-colonial period.

Contemporary European History

Editors

Josie McLellan, University of Bristol, UK

Holger Nehring, University of Sheffield, UK

N. Piers Ludlow, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

Corresponding Editor for North America

Amir Weiner, Stanford University, USA

Contemporary European History covers the history of Eastern and Western Europe, including the United Kingdom, from 1918 to the present. By combining a wide geographical compass with a relatively short time span, the journal achieves both range and depth in its coverage. It is open to all forms of historical inquiry - including cultural, economic, international, political and social approaches - and welcomes comparative and transnational analysis. One issue per year explores a broad theme under the guidance of a guest editor. The 2009 issue will examine the historical turning point of '1989' from a Pan-European perspective. The journal regularly features contributions from scholars outside the Anglophone community and acts as a channel of communication between European historians throughout the continent and beyond it.

Comparative Studies in Society and History

Editor-in-Chief

Andrew Shryock, Anthropology, University of Michigan, USA

Comparative Studies in Society and History is an international forum for new research and interpretation concerning problems of recurrent patterning and change in human societies through time and the contemporary world. CSSH sets up a working alliance among specialists in all branches of the social sciences and humanities as a way of bringing together multidisciplinary research, cultural studies, and theory, especially in anthropology, history, political science, and sociology. Review articles and discussion bring readers in touch with current findings and issues.

International Review of Social History

Published for the Internationaal Instituut voor
Sociale Geschiedenis

Editor

Aad Blok, *Internationaal Instituut voor Sociale Geschiedenis,
The Netherlands*

International Review of Social History is one of the leading journals in its field. Truly global in its scope, it focuses on research in social and labour history from a comparative and transnational perspective, both in the modern and in the early modern period, and across periods. The journal combines quality, depth and originality of its articles with an open eye for theoretical innovation and new insights and methods from within its field and from contiguous disciplines. Besides research articles, it features surveys of new themes and subject fields, a suggestions and debates section, review essays and book reviews. It is esteemed for its annotated bibliography of social history titles, and also publishes an annual supplement of specially commissioned essays on a current theme. The 2011 special issue will examine 'The Joy and Pain of Work: Global Attitudes and Valuations, 1500-1650'.

Rural History

Economy, Society, Culture

Editors

Liz Bellamy, University of East Anglia, UK

Keith D. M. Snell, University of Leicester, UK

Tom Williamson, University of East Anglia, UK

Rural History is well known as a stimulating forum for interdisciplinary exchange. Its definition of rural history ignores traditional subject boundaries to encourage the cross-fertilisation that is essential for an understanding of rural society. It stimulates original scholarship and provides access to the best of recent research. While concentrating on the English-speaking world and Europe, the journal is not limited in geographical coverage. Subject areas include: agricultural history; historical ecology; folklore; popular culture and religion; rural literature; landscape history, archaeology and material culture; vernacular architecture; ethnography, anthropology and rural sociology; the study of women in rural societies; relationships between the urban and the rural; and the politics of rural societies. The journal accommodates varying disciplinary reference systems, and publishes book reviews and review articles.

Rural History is now indexed in the Thomson Reuters JCR

Instructions for contributors

Editorial policy

Urban History occupies a central place in historical scholarship. Contents include research-based articles, historiographical and methodological surveys, and surveys of urban development in individual countries. As part of a major contribution to research, Urban History provides detailed bibliographical references for an average of 1,000 classified and indexed items, culled from monographs and edited collections, and from approximately 560 periodicals.

1. Submissions

Submissions from authors on all aspects of urban history are invited. Articles of a comparative or thematic nature are encouraged, as are articles which raise methodological issues, and those which seek to place the development of individual towns or cities in a wider framework. No historical period is excluded.

Articles submitted for publication should be sent to The Editors, Urban History, Centre for Urban History, University of Leicester, Leicester LE1 7RH, UK, or by email at sg201@le.ac.uk or rhs4@le.ac.uk Authors wishing to submit articles on North American topics should contact Robert Lewis on lewis@geog.toronto.ca

Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Upon acceptance of a paper, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their manuscript.

2. Manuscript preparation

Articles should be no longer than 8,000 words, inclusive of footnotes and tables, and should be double spaced throughout. A summary of 75 words should also be provided.

Further information and detailed 'Instructions for contributors' visit www.journals.cambridge.org/uhy.

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world's forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.
