The Journal of African History

Editors: WILLIAM NASSON, University of Cape Town, South Africa;
LOUIS BRENNER, University of London; PHYLLIS MARTIN, Indiana University; THOMAS SPEAR, University of Wisconsin-Madison

The Journal of African History publishes articles and book reviews ranging widely over the African past, from the late Stone Age to the 1970s. In recent years increasing prominence has been given to economic, cultural and social history and several articles have explored themes which are also of growing interest to historians of other regions such as: gender roles, demography, health and hygiene, propaganda, legal ideology, labour histories, nationalism and resistance, environmental history, the construction of ethnicity, ideas of time, and photographs as historical sources. Contributions dealing with pre-colonial history are especially welcome. Articles on slavery, the slave trade and the interpretation of oral tradition are also included.

Christians and Chiefs in Zimbabwe

A Social History of the Hwesa People 1870s - 1990s

David J Maxwell

November 1998 288 pp 234 x 156 mm

Paperback 0 7486 1129 0 £14.95

Hardback 0 7486 1130 4 £29.95

This is the fascinating social history of a remote chiefdom in Zimbabwe. The book focuses on the religion and politics of the area, describing how the Hwesa people adapted the Christianity that the missionaries brought to found their own popular Christianity, pitted against local notions of evil. It also examines the role of the chief, challenging the idea that they were no more than colonial stooges.
