

- WERZ, R. v. Sauerstoffmangel als Ursache des Kältetodes. Archiv für Experimentelle Pathologie und Pharmakologie (Leipzig), Bd. 202, Nr. 6, 31 December 1943, pp. 561-93. [Review of previous work on the cause of death from abnormally low temperatures; describes experiments from which the author concludes that the essential factor is a relative oxygen deficiency.]
- WHITE, J. C. and WARREN S. Causes of Pain in Feet after Prolonged Immersion in Cold Water. War Medicine (Chicago), Vol. 5, No. 1, 1944, pp. 6-13. [Discussion of the theoretical aspects of the commonest complaint of survivors of shipwrecks.]

B. B. R.

ERRATUM

The Polar Record, No. 26, July 1943.

Page 94, line 16: For Morell read Morrell.