

PUBLICATION POLICY AND NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The main purpose of this Journal is to provide a forum for psychologists, and those in related disciplines, within the South Pacific region. It is also intended that the Journal shall serve as an archive for psychological studies especially germane to the region. Although the emphasis is expected to be on the island nations, contributions are welcomed from any part of the world and may address any topic within psychology.

The Journal follows the style detailed in the Publication Manual (3rd edition) of the American Psychological Association.

Manuscripts, in duplicate, or books for review should be sent either to:

Dr Murray J Dyck
School of Humanities & Social Sciences
