Religion and American Culture: A Journal of Interpretation

Religion and American Culture, edited by Conrad Cherry, Amanda Porterfield, and Rowland Sherrill, serves as an important forum for the study of religion and its relation to the American cultural context. For those interested in the relationship of religion to American culture, RAC provides a necessary tool for studying the diversity of religious expression in America.

Journal of Policy History

Donald T. Critchlow, Editor

David Robertson, Associate Editor/Book Review Editor

Thomas F. Curran, Managing Editor

Journal of Policy History offers a new approach to policy analysis that is both historical and innovative. The Journal encourages interdisciplinary research into the origins and development of public policy in the United States and in other countries as well. Appearing quarterly, the Journal of Policy History publishes articles and review essays by historians, political scientists, sociologists, economists, and legal scholars. Each year the first issue is devoted to a special topic such as drug control policy, the refugee/asylum dilemma, urban policy, equal opportunity and affirmative action, and civil rights policy. This issue is also published separately as a paperback (Issues in Policy History) for course use.

Published quarterly ISSN 0898-0306

Cambridge History of American Foreign Relations

Incomparable in its depth, scope and insight, this four-volume history explores America's past via the unique perspective of America's connections with the rest of the world. Organised chronologically from the country's founding to the 1990s, each of the four volumes is written by a leading historian.

Volume 1: The Creation of a Republican Empire, 1776–1865

Bradford Perkins

Volume one traces American foreign relations from the colonial era to the end of the Civil War, paying particular attention to the origins and development of American thought regarding international relations.

£12.95 PB 0 521 48384 0 272 pp.

Volume 2: The American Search for Opportunity, 1865–1913

Walter LaFeber

This volume analyses the period between the American Civil War and World War I (1865–1913) as the formative basis for twentieth-century American world power – ‘The American Century’ as it has become known.

£12.95 PB 0 521 48383 2 272 pp.

Volume 3: The Globalizing of America, 1913–1945

Akira Iriye

Volume three describes the history of the foreign relations of the United States during 1913–1945, the period of two world wars as well as of momentous changes that brought to an end the period of European domination.

£12.95 PB 0 521 48382 4 254 pp.

Volume 4: America in the Age of Soviet Power, 1945–1991

Warren I. Cohen

The final volume is an elegant and concise history of American foreign relations during the Cold War era, based on the most recent American, Chinese, and Soviet literature, written from a post-Cold War perspective.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, Department of Literature, University of Essex, Colchester CO4 3SQ, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 6,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and has not been concurrently submitted for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed or printed in double spacing (including footnotes), with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to The Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition, 1982) or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Proof corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps). Typescripts from the UK will not normally be returned.
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.

Books for review should be sent as follows: History, Political Science and Social Studies to Dr. S. Jay Kleinberg, Department of Arts, Brunel University College, 300 St. Margaret's Road, Twickenham, Middlesex TW1 1PT, England. Literature, the Fine Arts and other books to Professor Richard Gray, Department of Literature, University of Essex, Wivenhoe Park, Colchester CO4 3SQ, England.
