

Law & Society Review Condensed Style Sheet

Type manuscripts double-spaced on one side of the paper only. While manuscripts need not conform to this style sheet at the time of submission, all manuscripts must include an abstract, footnotes, and a list of references, and all accepted manuscripts must be revised by the authors to conform to the Review's style. The rules listed below supplement the manuscript information on the inside front cover of the Review. Authors are urged to consult Review issues in volume 26 or later for further illustrations. A detailed style sheet is available from the Editorial Office.

1. Abstracts. All manuscripts should include an abstract of not more than 100 words. No abstracts are required for review essays or comments.
2. Footnotes. Footnotes should be numbered sequentially (except for the author's footnote) and printed on pages immediately following the text (not at the foot of the page). They should contain only substantive comments and additional references not immediately relevant to the text.
3. Tables and Figures. Tables should approximate the appearance of printed tables. Figures should be camera ready; provide originals, not xerographic copies. Tables and/or figures should be placed at the end of the text, after footnotes, appendixes, and references. Their location within the text should be indicated as follows:

Table 1 about here

4. Citations. All notes that consist merely of supporting citations should be placed in parentheses in the text. For example:

In a thoughtful essay, Hayden (1991) . . .

OR

Media stories often portray the civil jury as generous (Daniels & Martin 1986:236; Hans 1989; Huber 1988).

The same general rules apply to footnote text.

5. References. References are placed at the end of the manuscript following the footnotes. The list should contain only those sources actually cited in text or notes. Give authors' names as they appear in the original source. For more than one publication by the same author, list them in chronological order, with the older item first. For more than one publication in one year by the same author, use small (lower-case) letters to distinguish them (e.g., 1970a, 1970b).

BOOKS: Last Name, First Name (year) Title of Book. City: Publisher.

Example: Lerner, Melvin J. (1980) Belief in a Just World. New York: Plenum.

CHAPTER IN EDITED VOLUME:

Example: Glazer, Nathan (1979) "The Judiciary and Social Policy," in L. Theberge, ed., The Judiciary in a Democratic Society. Lexington, MA: Lexington Books.

ARTICLES: Last Name, First Name (Year) "Title of Article," volume number Journal initial page of article. (Give month or issue number if each issue is separately paginated.)

Examples: Padgett, John F. (1990) "Plea Bargaining in Prohibition," 24 Law & Society Rev. 413.

Brill, Steven, & James Lyons ((1986) "The Not-So-Simple Crisis," American Lawyer 12 (May).

UNPUBLISHED PAPERS:

Example: Lofquist, William S. (1991) "The Development of Organizational Probation." Presented at American Society of Criminology annual meeting, San Francisco.

All cases cited in text are listed under "Cases Cited" following the References. All statutes cited are listed under "Statutes Cited." For style for cases and statutes, see A Uniform System of Citation.

Now in paperback — the book that explains why America has become an increasingly litigious society.

TOTAL JUSTICE

LAWRENCE M. FRIEDMAN

A litigation explosion has happened in America in recent years. This book shows why people have come to expect “total justice” — a concept that eliminates the idea of accidents. In tracing the historical transformation of American society since the Industrial Revolution, Friedman shows how the expansion of legal rights and protections have, in turn, created fresh expectations and produced a cycle of demand and response, introducing into our legal system two “superprinciples”: a general expectation of justice and a general expectation of recompense.

First published in 1985, Total Justice has established itself as a classic examination of America’s legal culture. This paperback edition is published with a new preface by the author.

“Skeptics should spend two hours with this book; they will come away convinced that the law-drenched age in which we live can be interpreted only in the light of this sophisticated argument.

—ABA Journal, The Lawyer’s Magazine

$14.95 paper 166 pages 0-87154-268-4

RUSSELL SAGE FOUNDATION

112 E. 64th St., New York, NY 10021 For toll free-ordering: (800) 666-2211

THE OXFORD HANDBOOK OF CRIMINOLOGY

Edited by MIKE MAGUIRE, ROD MORGAN, and ROBERT REINER

This is a major new reference and text in a subject which has lacked such a work for many years, covering the entire spectrum of criminology. From the history of the discipline and its present organization in the United Kingdom, the book goes on to deal with topics as diverse as policing, alcohol and crime, juvenile crime, crime statistics, drugs and crime, custodial and non-custodial sentences, prisons, victims, and the organization of professional crime in Britain.

1994 1282 pp. $90.00

MEDICAL DISCIPLINE The Professional Conduct Jurisdiction of the General Medical Council, 1858-1990

RUSSELL G. SMITH

This comprehensive book considers whether or not Britain's General Medical Council of professional conduct jurisdiction acts fairly and justly when dealing both with doctors whose conduct it controls, and members of the public whose interests it was established to protect. By looking at the legal history of the Council, it is possible to see how the system of medical discipline in Britain developed, to reveal its problems, and to see how best to improve the system.

(Oxford Socio-Legal Studies)

1994 448 pp.; frontispiece, 31 figs., 15 tables $69.00

EXPERT WITNESSES Science, Medicine, and the Practice of Law

CAROL A.G. JONES

This book examines the role of expert witnesses in the legal system and the role of science in the law. The author demonstrates through examples how lawyers routinely use science to secure convictions. She examines the place of scientists in personal injury claims, offering a strong argument that those with the most power and money are able to secure the services of the best experts in order to win cases.

(Oxford Socio-Legal Studies)

1994 296 pp. $49.95

BLACK AND BLUE Policing in South Africa

JOHN D. BREWER

The South African Police Force is among the world's most controversial police forces, plagued by allegations of misconduct and archaic methods. John Brewer places these problems in their historical context through this detailed study of the origins and development of policing in South Africa. Brewer sees a major problem in the lack of modernization, linking it to the state's need for a police force to uphold and implement its policies of internal colonialism.

1994 400 pp.; 45 tables $59.00

STANDING ACCUSED The Organisation and Practices of Criminal Defence Lawyers in Britain

MIKE McCONVILLE, JACQUELINE HODGSON, LEE BRIDGES, and ANITA PAVLOVIC

This book refutes the common conception of criminal cases as a fight between adversaries of equal strength, in which defense lawyers offset the intrusive potential of the State. It examines the processes by which lawyers are educated and trained and makes a detailed analysis of how cases are handled. The research reveals the significant role played by paralegals and unqualified staff in the delivery of criminal defense services, and how their ideologies can undermine defendants' rights.

(Oxford Monographs on Criminal Law and Justice)

1994 328 pp. $55.00

ABUSE OF PROCESS AND JUDICIAL STAYS OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

ANDREW L.T. CHOO

This study presents a fresh perspective on judicial stays of criminal proceedings by examining discretion in the context of the law of criminal evidence. Dr. Choo persuasively argues that the judicial discretion to stay criminal proceedings should be viewed in the same way. He examines the English law on the topic and also the way it is approached in other countries including Canada, Australia, and the United States.

(Oxford Monographs on Criminal Law and Justice)

1994 248 pp. $42.00

Prices and publication dates are subject to change and apply only in the U.S.

To order or for more information please call 1-800-451-7556.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

BICENTENNIAL ESSAYS on the BILL OF RIGHTS

RETAINED BY THE PEOPLE A History of American Indians and the Bill of Rights

JOHN R. WUNDER, Clemson University

"This book is most informative as it covers a topic about which most people do not know a lot, and it does it in an easy-to-read manner."

—Robert Langran, Villanova University

"Excellent discussion of an important but neglected and misunderstood topic."—Thomas Keating, Arizona State University

1994 312 pp.; 19 illus. paper $15.95 cloth $45.00

FAIR TRIAL

Rights of the Accused in American History

DAVID J. BODENHAMER, Indiana University, Indianapolis

"The best single synthetic handling of the topic."—American Historical Review

"A useful, timely, brief but informative overview. Ought to be very helpful as collateral reading in 'Constitutional Law' courses."—H.J. Abraham, University of Virginia

1991 192 pp. paper $12.95

THE GUARDIAN OF EVERY OTHER RIGHT

A Constitutional History of Property Rights

JAMES W. ELY, JR., Vanderbilt University

"Informative and balanced."—Journal of Legal History

"Offers opportune reconsideration of the constitutional status of property rights in America at a time when property rights are yet again receiving serious reconsideration by the Supreme Court....A good short history."—The Law and Politics Book Review

1991 224 pp.; 14 illus. paper $13.95

PROMISES TO KEEP

African-Americans and the Constitutional Order, 1776 to the Present

DONALD G. NIEMAN, Clemson University

"An impressive job. As a study of the paradoxes of the American constitution in regards to racism he provides answers to many questions and induces commentary as to the ability of America to make or break her promises of democracy. His book is clearheaded and reasonable; the bibliography is a gem."

—Ervin L. Jordan, University of Virginia

1991 304 pp.; 14 illus. paper $12.95

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

SOCIOLOGICAL JUSTICE

DONALD BLACK, University of Virginia

"A seminal work in the critical legal studies movement. Black's recognition of prevalent discrimination in social life and its natural presence in the criminal justice system is both controversial and correct!"—Ruth-Ellen Grimes, California State University-Fullerton

"With his voluminous and important contributions, Donald Black has been a central figure in the sociology of law.... The ramifications of Black's work... are extremely profound for the direction of sociology and the structure of the legal profession, and they cannot be ignored."—William Clements, Criminal Justice Review

1989 (paper 1993) 192 pp.; 3 illus. paper $14.95 cloth $24.95

AMERICAN LEGAL HISTORY

Cases and Materials

KERMIT L. HALL, University of Florida, Gainesville,
WILLIAM M. WIECEK, Syracuse University, and PAUL FINKELMAN,
Brooklyn Law School

"Excellent; thorough; detailed. Excellent integration of the law with U.S. history. Highly readable."—R.F. Carroll, Coe College

"Perfect for a variety of students.... It provides sufficient prose without being verbose and offers an excellent selection of primary sources and documents."
—Peter Janus, Cardinal Stritch College

"A highly useful compilation of documents that serve to illustrate important developments and changes in our legal history."—Bimonthly Review of Law Books

1991 624 pp. paper $22.00 cloth $55.00

Teacher's Manual

1991 98 pp. paper gratis

THE MAGIC MIRROR

Law in American History

Second Edition

KERMIT L. HALL, University of Florida, Gainesville

"Precisely the sort of interpretive survey of the evolution of American legal culture that students and teachers have needed for years."—American Historical Review

"For both historians and lawyers, Hall has provided a readable and compact history of the intersections of law with American social and economic history.... A book that will inform and stimulate thinking and research."—Judicature
1989 416 pp. paper $18.95

Prices are subject to change. To request an examination copy, write on school letterhead giving full course information, including course name, level, expected enrollment, and your decision deadline, to

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

ATTN: COLLEGE SALES COORDINATOR • 200 MADISON AVENUE • NEW YORK, NY 10016

Chicago

Rights at Work

Pay Equity Reform and the Politics of Legal Mobilization

Michael W. McCann

McCann explains how wage discrimination battles have raised public legal consciousness and helped reform activists mobilize working women over the past two decades.

"An important contribution to understanding the subtle and various ways in which law interacts with social change. It will play a foundational role in every serious scholar's thinking about the issue."—Gerald N. Rosenberg, author of The Hollow Hope: Can Courts Bring About Social Change?

Paper $18.95 372 pages Cloth edition available
Language and Legal Discourse

Discourse and Destruction

The City of Philadelphia versus MOVE

Robin Wagner-Pacifici

Wagner-Pacifici examines how the struggle in the 1980s between the city of Philadelphia and the radical group MOVE went from memos and meetings to tear gas and bombs.

"Fascinating. This book encourages the reader to examine the discourse surrounding social violence in ways that are both more critical and more systematic."—Wendy Griswold, University of Chicago

Paper $12.95 192 pages Cloth edition available

Antidiscrimination Law and Minority Employment

Recruitment Practices and Regulatory Constraints

Farrell Bloch

"A provocative analysis of the limits of race-specific programs, including affirmative action, in addressing the problems of minority employment. This bold and thoughtful book suggests new approaches to overcome the persistent unemployment gap between blacks and whites."—William Julius Wilson

Cloth $19.95 152 pages

Now in paper

Images of a Free Press

Lee C. Bollinger

Bollinger argues that the distinction between regulation of print and broadcast media remains meaningful, but advocates a more sophisticated approach to issues of privacy, access, and technology.

"...an intricate, ambitious, provocative, and important contribution to the literature on the legal status of the modern press."—Lili Levi, Cornell Law Review

Paper $14.95 222 pages

The University of CHICAGO Press

5801 S. Ellis Ave., Chicago, IL 60637

Law and Society Association

Officers

President: Sally Engle Merry, Anthropology, Wellesley College

President-Elect: Susan S. Silbey, Sociology, Wellesley College

Immediate Past President: Joel Handler, Law, University of California–Los Angeles

Secretary: Austin Sarat, Legal Studies, Amherst College

Treasurer: Joyce Sterling, Law, University of Denver

Editors: Law & Society Review: Frank Munger, Law, State University of New York, Buffalo;
Book Review: Barbara Yngvesson, Anthropology, Hampshire College

Executive Officer: Ronald M. Pipkin, Legal Studies, University of Massachusetts–Amherst

Board of Trustees

Class of 1994
Maureen Cain, Sociology, University of West Indies
Kitty Calavita, Sociology, University of California, Irvine
Paul G. Chevigny, Law, New York University
Jo Dixon, Sociology, New York University
Ramón A. Gutiérrez, Ethnic Studies, University of California, San Diego
Susan F. Hirsch, Anthropology, Wesleyan University
Martin Shapiro, Political Science, University of California, Berkeley
Blanca G. Silvestrini, Law, University of Puerto Rico

Class of 1995
Lauren Edelman, Sociology, University of Wisconsin
Hazel Genn, Law, University of London
Carol Greenhouse, Anthropology, Indiana University
Susan Lawrence, Political Science, Rutgers University
Setsuo Miyazawa, Law, Kobe University
Michael Musheno, Justice Studies, Arizona State University
William M. O'Barr, Anthropology, Duke University
Joseph Sanders, Law, University of Houston

Class of 1996
Gayle Binion, Law & Society, University of California, Santa Barbara
Williamson Chang, Law, University of Hawaii
Rosemary Coombe, Law, University of Toronto
Martha Albertson Fineman, Law, Columbia University
Michael Grossberg, History, Case Western Reserve University
Deborah R. Hensler, Political Science, RAND Corporation
Mindie Lazarus-Black, Criminal Justice, University of Illinois, Chicago
E. Allan Lind, Psychology, American Bar Foundation

Ex Officio Trustee Immediate Past Editor:
Shari Diamond, Psychology, University of Illinois, Chicago

Past Presidents:

Richard L. Abel, Law, University of California, Los Angeles
Harry Ball, Sociology, University of Hawaii
Lawrence M. Friedman, Law, Stanford University
Marc Galanter, Law, University of Wisconsin–Madison
Herbert Jacob, Political Science, Northwestern University
Charles D. Kelso, Law, University of the Pacific
Samuel Krislov, Political Science, University of Minnesota
Felice J. Levine, Sociological Studies, American Sociological Association
Stewart Macaulay, Law, University of Wisconsin–Madison
Victor G. Rosenblum, Law, Northwestern University
Richard D. Schwartz, Law, Syracuse University
Robert B. Yegge, Law, University of Denver