TWJ FOUNDATION

The Trustees of the TWJ Foundation invite applications for TWJ U.K. OTOLOGICAL or AUDIOLOGICAL THESIS FELLOWSHIP

It is now generally known that the TWJ Foundation's main purpose is to support the advanced training of the younger Otologist and that this has been pursued by offering major Travelling Fellowships to centres of excellence usually in North America, smaller grants for short visits to other centres and some grants for research.

The future of Otology in the United Kingdom may well be influenced by the support of research and academic activities. The young Otologist acquires his/her skills when holding full-time appointments during which most of his/her time is occupied by service commitments. The Trustees know that a number of research projects are carried out and never completed or reported as the worker has not been able to find the extra time needed.

The Trustees therefore intend periodically to offer U.K. Otological Thesis Fellowships. These will be awarded in open competition to a medically qualified trainee of any grade in a post recognized by the Royal Colleges for training in Otology or Audiology. Applicants will have to show that their project is otological or audiological and has been accepted by a University of the United Kingdom or Dublin for admission to a higher medical or surgical degree, that the project is in its final stage and that time is required for thought and the writing of the thesis. Applicants will need to be strongly recommended by their professional assessor and the Head of the Hospital Department in which they are working.

The value of the grants will vary but the intention will be to allow the holder to take a short period of unpaid leave during which the project will be completed and the thesis submitted to the University.

Applicants should approach the Trustees for further information about eighteen months after the start of their project.
