Richard Foreman

Plays and Manifestos

Edited, with an Introduction, by Kate Davy. The texts of eight of the twelve plays Richard Foreman has produced for his Ontological-Hysteric Theatre appear in this new book (six of them previously unpublished) along with three manifestos on theatre art. Kate Davy's perceptive introduction examines the major influences on Foreman's work and skillfully guides the reader to an understanding of how to approach the texts. Illustrated. $9.75 paper; $18.50 cloth

Ur-Drama

The Origins of Theatre

By Ernest Theodore Kirby. A provoking and controversial work, Ur-Drama contradicts the common view of the origin of theatre as having been founded in fertility worship and organized in a seasonal pattern. E. T. Kirby demonstrates here how many of the world's most important theatre forms—ancient Greek drama, Sanskrit drama, Chinese classical drama, and Japanese noh drama—were developed from early shamanistic rituals, rather than fertility worship. Illustrated. $12.50

The New Theatre

Performance Documentation

Edited by Michael Kirby. Entirely reprinted from The Drama Review, The New Theatre covers a wide range of experimental and avant-garde performances, offering a recreation of various theatrical experiences occurring in contemporary drama. Illustrated. $10.00

Edited by Terence P. Logan and Denzell S. Smith
Alfred Harbage, advisory editor

The New Intellectuals is a comprehensive account of recent scholarship on those dramatists who wrote most of their plays between 1593 and 1616 and who either wrote principally for the private theaters or were significantly influenced by them; it also includes discussions on anonymous plays first performed in such theaters. # CONTEMPORARY DRAMATISTS

2nd Edition

Preface by Ruby Cohn

CONTEMPORARY DRAMATISTS gives detailed information on some 300 playwrights writing in the English language. Each entry contains: biography; listing of all plays, with details of first production, production in New York and London, and publication; details of other work in the theatre—plays directed or produced, plays in which the entrant has acted, etc.; information about work for radio, television and the movies; a listing of those critical studies the playwright considers relevant in understanding his or her work; an optional comment by the entrant; and a signed critical essay.

An additional 100 playwrights are included in a Supplement of essays and appendices on screenwriters, radio and television writers, musical librettists, and on the theatre of mixed means and theatre collectives.

For this new edition, the editors have included an appendix of entries for important playwrights who have died since the 1950's, but whose reputations are essentially contemporary. They include Brendan Behan, Joe Orton, Lorraine Hansberry, and John Whiting.

An 82-page Title Index of all plays listed in the book completes the volume.

"Highly recommended for all reference collections." —Choice

"Invaluable as a reference tool for libraries and for anyone who studies the drama." —Saturday Review Syndicate

Department of Drama, Undergraduate

IS OFFERING AN ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM IN:

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE

The Department of Drama, Undergraduate, which offers a B.F.A. degree in acting, is pleased to announce an alternative program of study with the Experimental Theatre Wing. A limited number of students will have the opportunity to work intimately with leading experimental theatre groups in a two-year program designed for students who have completed two years of foundation work with one of the three professional studios associated with our Department: Stella Adler Conservatory of Acting, Circle in the Square Theatre School, and The Lee Strasberg Theatre Institute. The ETW is also open to students who have studied acting elsewhere and who wish to transfer into our Department. Students in the ETW will work in unique acting, voice and movement workshops taught from the point of view of members from each of the following experimental theatre groups: The Performance Group (best known for explorations of audience participation and environmental theatre), The Ridiculous Theatrical Company (specializing in Commedia dell'arte), Mabou Mines (known for conceptual adaptations of Beckett and experiments with new music and movement), Chi-Kanji and original members of the Open Theater—each known for uniquely experimental approaches to ensemble acting. In addition to studying with the groups, students will be expected to take dramatic literature, theatre history (including studies in the avant-garde), and performance theory courses offered through the Department. The program also includes summer workshops with the Iowa Theater Lab and the Bread and Puppet Theater.

Since the nature of the groups involves frequent international tours, the order and availability of the groups varies each semester. For each year's schedule and further information contact:

KING LEAR

The Space of Tragedy

The Diary of a Film Director

Grigori Kozintsev

Kozintsev is best known in the West for his brilliant film of Hamlet. In 1972 it was followed by his deeply dramatic and moving King Lear. This book is the director's record, day by day, of his meditations on the play and his adaptation of it. It is by no means an ordinary film diary. Humorous, resilient and resourceful, this will be a lasting contribution to the literature of film.

The Montecassino Passion and the Poetics of Medieval Drama

Robert Edwards

The Montecassino Passion play is the earliest Passion drama in the West. Edwards offers the first translation of this twelfth-century piece, and he analyzes the work in its aesthetic and cultural contexts.

The National Shakespeare Company Conservatory

"The training of the actor is no more of a mystery than the training of a musician or dancer. As with the musician, the actor learns to play an instrument; as with the dancer, the instrument is the body. For both, imagination, intelligence and discipline are applied to a craft so that an expressive and creative moment can take place."

Philip Meister
Director

The National Shakespeare Company Conservatory is dedicated to the premise that an actor whose training is rooted in the disciplines necessary for classical literature is better prepared to perform in today's theatre, film and television.

The program is designed to prepare all facets of the actor's instrument: body, imagination, and intellect. However, most important is the special attention the Conservatory pays to the INTEGRATION of all of these aspects in the training process.

The Conservatory training program is a two year (four term) curriculum. The student may enter the FALL FIRST TERM: September 26, 1977 or the WINTER FIRST TERM: January 30, 1978. For further information and an application form write:

A New Development in M.A. and Ph.D. programs

New York University's graduate Drama Department has always been interested in new developments in performance. Now we are in the process of broadening the range of departmental offerings in order to keep abreast of current thinking about performance in developing areas of scholarship, to emphasize particular strengths and specializations of our faculty, and to relate to a wider range of employment opportunities.

The new program, for both the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, intends to offer courses in six areas, some of them unusual or unique:

ARCHIVES AND RESEARCH CONTEMPORARY PERFORMANCE
DANCE
PERFORMANCE THEORY
PERFORMANCE WRITING AND ANALYSIS
POPULAR PERFORMANCE

- Archives and Research will include course work and practical training, work that is now being done, in part, at the Shubert Archives under a grant from the Shubert Foundation.
- Contemporary Performance will focus on avant-garde, experimental, and alternative theatre. A course in Paratheatre will be offered in Fall 77.
- Dance will cover both theatrical and non-theatrical forms.
- Performance Theory will emphasize the relationship of theatre to thinking in anthropology, ethnology, linguistics, psychology, etc. and in the other arts.
- Performance Writing will be concerned with journalistic and popular writing about theatre. The course in Semiotics of Performance, offered in Fall 77, is representative of the work in Analysis.
- Popular Performance reinforces the non-literary orientation of the department and deals, in the Fall 77 term, with such topics as Festival and Folk theatre and the Commedia dell'Arte and Its Influence.

The faculty of the graduate Drama Department for 77-78 will include:

Theodore Hoffman
Françoise Kourilsky (adjunct professor)
Michael Kirby (on sabbatical leave)
Brooks McNamara (acting chairman)
Richard Schechner
