LES ÉDITIONS DE L'ATELIER

"Labour/Le Travail has earned a well deserved reputation as one of the world's outstanding journals of social history. The breadth of its coverage, the rigor of its editorial standards, and the timeliness of its concern for major theoretical questions make this journal necessary reading for all those who are interested in the past, present and future of working people."

David Montgomery
Yale University

JOURNAL OF CANADIAN LABOUR STUDIES

Labour/Le Travail is the official publication of the Canadian Committee on Labour History. Since it began publishing in 1976, it has carried many important articles in the field of working-class history, industrial sociology, labour economics, and labour relations. Although primarily interested in a historical perspective on Canadian workers, the journal is interdisciplinary in scope. In addition to articles, the journal features documents, conference reports, an annual bibliography of materials in Canadian labour studies, review essays, and reviews. While the main focus of the journal's articles is Canadian, the review essays and reviews consider international work of interest to Canadian labour studies. Many of Labour's articles are illustrated.

Recent issues have included: B.D. Palmer, "Homage to E.P. Thompson"; Charles Tilly, "Softcore Solipsism"; Nicholas Rogers, "Plebeians and Proletarians in 18th-Century Britain"; Melvyn Dubofsky, "Old Deal, New Deal: The Evolution of the Liberal State in the Modern United States."

Subscribers for 1997 will receive Labour/Le Travail 39 (Spring 1996) and Labour/Le Travail 40 (Fall 1996) - articles by Scott W. See, John Hagopian, Magda Fahrni, Ron Crawley, Robert Ventresca, Jean Lamarre, Shirley Tillotson, Greg McElligott and others.

Subscription rates: CDN Individual $25 (Foreign $30 US); CDN Institution $35 (Foreign $50 US); CDN Student/Retired/Unemployed $15 (Foreign $25 US). GST exempt. All Back Issues available. # RADICAL HISTORY REVIEW

Editorial Collective
VAN GOSSE
New York University

PUBLISHED FOR MARHO: THE RADICAL HISTORIANS' ORGANISATION

Radical History Review presents innovative scholarship and commentary that looks critically at the past and its historians from a non-sectarian left perspective. RHR scrutinizes conventional history and seeks to broaden and advance the discussion of crucial issues such as the role of race, class and gender in history. The journal offers original articles; review essays that examine the uses and abuses of history in the popular media, film, history museums and other public forums; and interviews with leading radical historians. Each volume is illustrated with drawings, cartoons, photographs and other graphic art. Issues are often thematic and cover a wide range of geographic areas and subjects.

International Labor and Working-Class History

Editors

HELMUT GRUBER & LOUISE TILLY
Center for Studies of Social Change

ILWCH has an international reputation for scholarly innovation and quality. It explores diverse topics from globalisation and workers' rights to class and consumption, labour movements, class identity, unions, and working-class politics. ILWCH publishes original essays, book reviews, and an acclaimed scholarly controversy section. Its reports and correspondence section updates readers on the state of labour history around the world. Comparative and cross-disciplinary, the journal is of interest to historians, sociologists, political scientists, and students. Number 51 (Spring 97) features articles on the experiences of workers in racially-stratified societies; Number 52 (Fall 97) will present a scholarly controversy on women, work, and citizenship.

Labour History Review

Incorporates the Bulletin of the Society for the Study of Labour History

Established 37 years ago,
Labour History Review
gained popularity by exploring the lives of 'working-class' people at a time when university history departments generally displayed little interest in this area.

In three issues per year,
Labour History Review
aims to give you twelve quality articles with an emphasis on British labour history, though comparative studies of subjects which join British history with those of other countries are covered.

Labour History Review
also features

- Conference reports
- Lively correspondence page
- Various feature titles
- Review essays

Whether you're a general reader or a specialist, Labour History Review is an enjoyable as well as an informative read.

Copying

This journal is registered with the Copyright Clearance Center, 222 Rosewood Drive, Danvers, MA 01923, USA. Organizations in the USA who are also registered with the C.C.C. may therefore copy material (beyond the limits permitted by sections 107 and 108 of U.S. Copyright law) subject to payment to the C.C.C. of the per copy fee of $7.50. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes. Code 0020–8590/97. ISI Tear Sheet Service, 3501 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104, USA, is authorized to supply single copies of separate articles for private use only. Organizations authorized by the Copyright Licensing Agency may also copy material subject to the usual conditions. For all other use, permission should be sought from Cambridge or from the American Branch of Cambridge University Press.

Guidelines for contributors

Manuscripts are considered for publication on the understanding that they are not currently under consideration elsewhere and that the material – in substance as well as form – has not been previously published.

Two copies of the manuscript should be submitted.

Each article should be accompanied by a summary, not exceeding 100 words, outlining the principal conclusions and methods in the context of currently accepted views on the subject.

All material – including quotations and notes – must be double-spaced with generous margins. Use of dot-matrix printers is discouraged.

Notes should be numbered consecutively and placed at the end of the text.

Spelling should be consistent throughout (e.g. Labour and Labor are both acceptable, but only one of these forms should be used in an article).

Turns of phrase using masculine forms as universals are not acceptable.
