

Volume 27

[1969] C.L.J.

Part 1

THE CAMBRIDGE LAW JOURNAL

April 1969

James William Cecil Turner, M.C., LL.D. 1886–1968
R. W. M. D.

The Office of Attorney-General
THE RT. HON. SIR ELWYN JONES

Products Liability: Consumer Protection in America
P. N. LEGH-JONES

The More-than-Handy Husband
JOHN TILEY

Vagaries in Liability for the Escape of Fire
A. I. OGUS

For full contents see back of cover

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

FOR THE FACULTY OF LAW, UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE

THE CAMBRIDGE LAW JOURNAL

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE

Professor C. J. Hamson, M.A., LL.M., Chairman and Treasurer

Professor Glanville L. Williams, LL.D., F.B.A.

D. W. Bowett, M.A., LL.B., Note Editor

R. W. M. Dias, M.A., LL.B., Assistant Editor

R. N. Gooderson, M.A., Note Editor

J. C. Hall, M.A., LL.B., Note Editor

J. A. Jolowicz, M.A., Note Editor

L. S. Sealy, Ph.D., Secretary

J. W. A. Thornely, M.A., Book Review Editor

SUBSCRIPTIONS

One volume of The Cambridge Law Journal is published each year. Each volume is in two parts, published in April and November. The subscription price of a volume is 45s. net (including postage) and is payable in advance. Single parts cost 25s. net plus postage. Orders may be sent to Cambridge University Press, Bentley House, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W.1, or to any bookseller. In Canada and the United States of America, the subscription price is $7.50 and single parts cost $4.00. Orders should be sent to Cambridge University Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022.

BACK VOLUMES

Volumes 1—25 (1921—1967)	£125 net ($375.00) per set (hardbound)
Volumes 1—11 (1921—1953) one volume of 3 parts every 3 years	£8 5s. net ($25.00) per vol. (hardbound)
Volumes 12—25 (1954—1967) one volume of 2 parts every year	80s. net ($12.00) per vol. (hardbound) 55s. net per vol. (paper covers if available) 27s. 6d. net per part
Volume 26 (1968)	This is still available, in paper covers, at the subscription price for the current issue (see above).

ADVERTISING

Details of advertising in the Journal may be obtained from Cambridge University Press.

OXFORD BOOKS FOR STUDENTS

Principles of Public International Law

IAN BROWNLIE

A treatment of Public International Law which emphasizes the technical aspects and major issues of legal principle. It is intended to provide a convenient work of reference for practitioners and a textbook suitable for both first degree courses and postgraduate work. '... a work which may well come into use as a regular university legal textbook ...' Law Quarterly Review 678pp 63/- net

Basic Documents in Public International Law

Edited by IAN BROWNLIE

This volume provides an economical and up-to-date selection of basic documents relating to International Organizations, the Law of the Sea, Outer Space, Diplomatic Relations, Permanent Sovereignty over Natural Resources, Human Rights and Self Determination, the International Law Commission, and the Judicial Settlement of Disputes. It is intended to be a useful companion to textbooks of international law. At the same time it is reasonably self-sufficient, containing introductory notes and references to the literature. 252pp 25/- net, paper covers 12/6 net

Cases in Constitutional Law D. L. KEIR and

F. H. LAWSON

This edition has been completely revised to take account of the many recent changes, especially in administrative law. The cases have been rearranged under the following heads: Legislation (Acts of Parliament, Subordinate Legislation, Taxation); Prerogative (General, Acts of State); Parliamentary Privilege; Military Law, the Maintenance of Order, and Martial Law; Judicial Control of Public Authorities (General Introduction, Liability for Civil Wrongs; Direct Control of Public Authorities, Principles Governing the Exercise of Discretionary Powers). Fifth edition 596pp 55/- net

English Courts of Law H. G. HANBURY

Fourth edition prepared by D. C. M. YARDLEY

A description of the historical background of the courts of law in this country from the twelfth century to the present, and the place they occupy in the vast and complicated network of English government. This fourth edition takes account of the many recent legislative changes, and the whole text has been thoroughly revised. 'A book every law student must read.' Law Journal Fourth edition 160pp 7/6 net
OPUS

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

ROMAN LAW

Linguistic, Social, and Philosophical Aspects

The Gray Lectures 1966

by DAVID DAUBE

Regius Professor of Civil Law, Oxford

¶ In this full and annotated text of his Gray Lectures at Cambridge, Professor Daube illuminates the dimensions of scholarship necessary to a proper understanding of Roman Civil Law. His book in turn suggests how such understanding can illuminate the cultural history of Western Man. He begins with a brilliant exposition of the bearing of semantics and language development on the meaning of legal doctrine; an essay rich in intellectual stimulus for students of any liberal study.

¶ Next, he shows how a commonsense socio-historical approach – the author's debt to his years in Scotland? – can help to define the class of society to which a body of legal practice principally refers; and how, once defined, the jurisprudence of that class can cast light on its historical situation, indeed predicament. It is typical of the author's scholarship that what he writes of the in-group of Rome widens our understanding of the present-day British upper class or the American 'Wasps'.

¶ Finally, as if to show that general assumptions must undergo trial by accurate scholarship, Professor Daube examines the belief in the Roman inheritance and systemization of Greek philosophical jurisprudence. Here his exact and exacting legal and linguistic analysis substantially modifies widely held assumptions and thus advances knowledge. 205 pages. 45s. net.

EDINBURGH

University Press, 22 George Square, Edinburgh 8

Ivamy's Casebook on Insurance Law (1969)

By Professor E. R. Hardy Ivamy, LL.B., Ph.D., LL.D., Barrister-at-Law, Professor of Law in the University of London.

The latest in Professor Ivamy's very successful Casebook Series, this extremely comprehensive book will prove invaluable to all those studying for University examinations. It is divided into eight Parts: General Principles; Motor Insurance; Fire Insurance; Marine Insurance; Life and Personal Accident Insurance; Liability Insurance; Householder's Comprehensive Insurance; Jewellery Insurance.

£1 12s. net, by post 1s. 6d. extra

James' General Principles of the Law of Torts

Third Edition 1969.

By Philip S. James, M.A., Barrister-at-Law; Professor of Law in the University of Leeds.

Already established as one of the leading students' textbooks on this complex subject, this 1969 Edition has been carefully supplied with all the latest cases, and recent statutes. Throughout the work the narrative exposition of the law is illustrated by a resume of decided cases, and footnotes are provided as a key to further research. ". . . (James) is always eminently readable, and for the student this book is a 'must'."

—New Law Journal

Library Edition: £2 16s. net, by post 4s. 6d. extra

Students' Edition: £2 net, by post 4s. 6d. extra

Stevens and Borrie on Mercantile Law

Fifteenth Edition 1969

By Gordon J. Borrie, LL.M., Barrister-at-Law, Professor of English Law at the University of Birmingham.

The latest edition of this well-established textbook takes account of the many far-reaching changes in Mercantile Law which have taken place recently. The appearance and layout of this work has now been radically improved to give the student an easily-assimilable overall guide to this vast and complex subject.

Library Edition: £1 14s. net, by post 3s. extra

Students' Edition: £1 net, by post 3s. extra

Smith on the Law of Theft (1968)

By J. C. Smith, M.A., LL.B., Barrister-at-Law, Professor of Common Law and Head of the Dept. of Law in the University of Nottingham.

The revolutionary new Theft Act is fully explained and clarified in this helpful new book—also available in Butterworths Annotated Legislation Service. The main part of the book consists of the author's commentary, clearly set out in short readable paragraphs. The full text of the Theft Act is set out in the Appendix with brief annotations and cross-references to the author's commentary.

Library Edition: (now reprinting) £2 4s. net, by post 2s. extra

Students' Edition: £1 12s. net, by post 1s. 9d. extra

BUTTERWORTHS 88 KINGSWAY, LONDON, W.C.2
Showroom: 11-12 Bell Yard, Temple Bar, W.C.2

OXFORD BOOKS FOR STUDENTS

Cases on Private International Law

J. H. C. MORRIS

The fourth edition of this book covers four new statutes and twelve new cases, including a full report of the revolutionary decision of the House of Lords in Indyka v. Indyka (1967), and that of the New York Court of Appeals in Babcock v. Jackson (1963). The Notes, which are a feature of the book, have been thoroughly revised, and those on recognition of foreign divorces and on torts have been completely rewritten. J. H. C. Morris is a Fellow of Magdalen College, Oxford.
Fourth edition 560pp 65/- net

Precedent in English Law RUPERT CROSS

When the first edition of this book was published in 1961, the English doctrine of precedent had become more rigid than ever before. Now, however, this position has been reversed. The loosening was largely brought about by the famous Practice Direction of the House of Lords of July 1966 in which the House asserted its power to reconsider previous decisions. The author, who is Vinerian Professor of English Law in the University of Oxford, discusses fully the implications of the Direction, together with several other indications of the changing climate in the rules of precedent. He has also attempted to collect together all the exceptions to the rule of stare decisis, although such a collection cannot be regarded as definitive. Second edition 244pp 30/- net Clarendon Law Series

Punishment and Responsibility

Essays in the Philosophy of Law H. L. A. HART

Some of these essays are concerned with the analysis of specific psychological conditions of responsibility, such as intention, 'acts of will,' and negligence, or of the general idea of responsibility and retribution; other essays are concerned with the justification of theories which restrict liability to punishment by reference to psychological conditions, or with newer theories which would eliminate such restrictions. The author is Professor of Jurisprudence in the University of Oxford.
282pp 28/- net, paper covers 14/- net

Administrative Law H. W. R. WADE

Since this textbook was first published six years ago there have been important developments in administrative law, much of which is judge-made. The central parts of the book have therefore been extensively rewritten. As before, it attempts to clarify the outlines of a subject which is insufficiently recognized as a single body of law. The principles of judicial control, natural justice, and tribunals and inquiries are given special prominence. The author is Professor of English Law in the University of Oxford. Second edition 356pp 30/- net

Clarendon Law Series

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS